MESSAGE.

Gentlemen of the Senate, and of the House of Representatives:

In being permitted again to convene under auspicious circumstances, for the discharge of the important trusts delegated to us for the welfare of the people, we find abundant cause of congratulation. During the year which is now drawing to a close, sickness, although wide spread, has been attended with but comparatively little mortality, and is happily succeeded by the blessings of health; the supremacý of the laws has been maintained; abundant harvests have crowned the labors of the year; our leading products are commanding encouraging prices; self-relying industry has been rewarded and stimulated by its merited compensation, and the deep gloom of individual embarrassment, which so long has overspread the State, is slowly retiring before the light of returning prosperity. For these, and numerous other blessings, it becomes us to render our grateful thanks to Him, the Giver of every good and perfect gift, and humbly to implore a continuance of His favor.

The ordinary expenses of the Government for the fiscal year, ending on the 31st of October last, were $71,122 29, being $22,-246 44 less than the expenses of the preceding year. In these expenses are also included payments for the construction of the new State Prison, and for a thorough repair of the State-house, under appropriations made for those objects.

The ordinary expenses for the year 1846, are estimated at $67,-100, being a still further reduction of four thousand dollars.

The number of polls for 1845, estimating for some counties from which no returns have been received, is about 124,000, and the value of taxables, making a similar allowance, may be stated at about $118,500,000. This exhibits an increase of 6000 polls, and of $2,300,000 of taxables over the returns of 1844. The whole amount of State revenue paid in during the last fiscal year, was $271,963 69. The assessment of State revenue for 1845, is $319,-424 81; that for county, road, school, and township purposes, is $431,100 40. To which adding the delinquencies of former years, amounting to $118,572 13, and the total amount of assessments for the year 1845, is $869,097 02.

The result of my own observation and reflection, has been to satisfy me that there is great room for reform in our present system of county expenditures. In the last fiscal year, the aggregate taxes levied for county purposes, almost equalled, and in 1844, they actually exceeded, the whole amount of our State revenue in those years respectively. The fault, no doubt, is mainly imputable to the system itself, rather than to its administration. A leading item of expense, is the pay of jurors in our courts of justice. Under the option given to parties, issues of fact are frequently tried by the courts, and the spectacle is often exhibited, of the jury being in attendance, unemployed and at an unnecessary expense to the county. It is respectfully suggested, whether this evil could not in a great degree be remedied by establishing an issue term, or by requiring that, during the first days of the regular term, causes shall be brought to issue, ready for trial, and that then, and before the jury and witnesses are summoned, the parties in each case shall elect, whether the trial shall be by the court or jury. By placing the jury causes together on the docket for particular days of the term, the jury and witnesses when convened would be as constantly occupied until discharged as the nature of the business would permit. This it is believed, would save to such persons a heavy tax upon their time, lighten the county burdens, and promote the cause of justice.

Since the last adjournment of the Legislature, a grant of one half of all the public lands in the Vincennes district, has been made by the United States to Indiana, to aid in the extension and completion of the Wabash and Erie canal, from Terre Haute to Evansville.

The grant has a two-fold aspect. By the first section of the act, there is conveyed to the State one moiety of the public lands lying in a strip five miles in width on each side of the canal from one end to the other, but restricted in the mode of selection by the principle of alternation,—that is, by reserving to the United States every alternate section, or other proper subdivision.

By the second section of the act, there is also granted to the State, one half of all the remaining lands lying without the limits of the strip and within the same land district; but as the principle of alternation is not imposed as to this part of the grant, the State is left at liberty to set off her moiety in such places within the limits of the grant, as may best promote her interest.

As these selections were authorized by the act of Congress to be made under the direction of the Governor of the State, it early became an object of the greatest solicitude that such measures should be adopted as would secure as far as practicable, the most valuable portion of these lands for the important object for which the grant was made. Supposing the State's half of the lands to amount to eight hundred thousand acres, which is very near the truth, then, a difference in the value of only twelve and a half cents per acre, occasioned by an injudicious selection, would amount in the aggregate to a loss of one hundred thousand dollars to the State. But the difference would, in all probability, be still greater, and operate far more injuriously to the interests of the State, without the observance of the same caution, by which a prudent individual would be governed in the purchase of lands. It was regarded as important, therefore, that every tract of public land subject to selection should be actually visited and examined by a person of competent skill and experience before a final selection should be made. By the terms of the act, further sales of public lands in the district were directed to be suspended until the selections should be perfected, and a return of the same made to the Secretary of the Treasury, and to the District Land office. But as it was also provided that this suspension should not continue beyond the period of twelve months from the passage of the act, which expires on the 3d of March next, and as there were nearly 1,600,000 acres of lands to be examined, (from which the State's moiety was to be selected,) extending through the twenty-three counties and parts of counties, embraced within the district, it became necessary to appoint a number of examiners sufficient to complete the work, not only by the time specified, but in a manner the most conducive to the interest of the State.

A separate map, as well as a separate list of all the unsold lands, in each of these counties, was procured from the General Land Office, to be placed in the hands of the several examiners to facilitate their labors, and to guide them in their operations. Soon after these were received, the examiners were convened at a central point, in order that by the specific instructions which were there given them, the necessary accuracy and uniformity on their part should be ensured. Had they been required to select for the State each in his own county, the better half of the lands therein contained, these separate moieties might not, and indeed it is certain they would not constitute the better half of the aggregate of the public lands in the district at large. They were directed, therefore, to divide the lands in their respective counties into five classes, according to their value, as compared with a common standard. F. E. Goodsell, Esq., of Evansville, was appointed as a general agent to visit the different examiners while thus engaged, and by comparing their estimates, to secure the necessary uniformity in classifying the different rates. By this means it was believed, that when the final reports of the examiners should be received, it would not be difficult to select the best classes of lands for the State.

By the terms of the grant, the State is prohibited from selling her portion of the lands, for less than the minimum price, for the time being, of other public lands.

But no restriction exists against the disposal of them in any quantities, however small. Believing that it would be found advisable to sell as low as in quarter-quarter sections, which would benefit the State by inviting a wider competition, and increasing the number of freeholders, the lists procured from the General Land Office, were transcribed and subdivided into tracts of that size, before they were put into the hands of the examiners.

Thus each forty acre tract will be found separately rated and ready to receive a corresponding valuation in the discretion of the Legislature, which would obviate the danger existing, in the case of uniform prices, of the best tracts of that size being first purchased, and a residue of unsaleable lands left on hand.

The State has heretofore found it necessary to make a graduated valuation of all lands granted to her for similar objects; and if the means had not been thus afforded to the Legislature, of at once affixing a suitable price to each class of lands in the present grant, the necessity would exist of having another valuation by another personal examination, with the same amount of additional expense, and what is probably of more importance, necessarily deferring action upon the subject for another year.

I am happy to state that, notwithstanding much delay occasioned by the prevalent sickness of the past season, the different examiners have finished their labors. Complete returns of their work have been received, and suitable persons are now engaged in this place, in making the final selections from them.

It has already been stated that the mode of selecting the State's moiety within the strip on each side of the canal, differs from that of selecting her portion without the strip. Hence, before the selections could be completed, either within or without the strip, it was necessary that the precise location of the canal should be known. This, on account of the loss of the notes of the former survey, the obliteration of marks, and other causes, it was found impossible to ascertain without a new survey. Accordingly, three experienced engineers, R. H. Fauntleroy of Posey, aided by W. J. Ball of Vigo, and S. C. Bradford of Warrick, were appointed to ascertain and fix the location of the canal in time for the selection of the lands. This duty has been performed, and a chart of the route of the canal, and of the lands selected for the State within the strip, is now in course of preparation. The chart, when finished, will be immediately forwarded to the General Land Office, because until that is done, the lands, by the terms of the grant, are not vested in the State.

This munificent donation, in connection with the disposition which it is understood is manifested by our bond-holders, may have an important bearing upon the credit of the State. And it is hoped, that it has been rendered apparent, that no pains have been spared on my part to gain to it the utmost value for that purpose.

The opinion has hitherto been nearly, if not quite universal among our citizens, as well as others acquainted with our condition and resources, that it is beyond the power of the State, at present, to fully meet its obligations. Even the plan submitted at the last session, in the Senate, virtually made this concession, by proposing to convert our bonds, mostly bearing five per cent. interest, into a stock bearing only three per cent. No plan that has been mooted for a resumption of payment, even the most stringent, has contemplated a full and immediate payment. The most rigid proposition has looked to a long indulgence on paying but a small part of the current interest, and funding the residue, together with that which is in arrears.

The completion of this canal, however advantageous it may be to the interests of those within its vicinity, it is manifest, claims your favorable regard, as the representatives of the State at large, chiefly as a revenue measure. And in that light it is believed to possess claims of a high character. The work, when finished, passes through a country of almost unrivalled fertility, and rapidly increasing population. Reaching in its full length, from Lake Erie to the Ohio river, it will be the longest work of the kind in the United States. It will be second in importance only to that which connects Lake Erie and Hudson's River, and will make one of the links in the great chain of internal navigation from the Northeastern to the South-western extremities of our growing confederacy.

It was stated in a quarter entitled to respect and confidence, at a meeting held at Terre Haute in May last, that if the State were to pay to her bond-holders, by a State tax and otherwise, a portion of her public debt, it was thought that they would be prepared to take the profits of the canal for the balance. The gentleman who expressed this opinion, is now in attendance as the representative of our foreign bond-holders, and has verbally advised me that he will shortly prepare a communication offering a liberal arrangement, to be laid before the General Assembly.

In my last annual message, the opinion was expressed, that the great mass of our fellow citizens were willing and anxious to meet all our just obligations, that with them it was a question not of inclination but of ability, and that I had great confidence if a plan for extinguishing the debt should be matured and agreed upon—one which in terms would be feasible, and clearly brought within the ability of the State to meet, that an appeal to the moral sense of the citizens for their approval at the ballot box would not be made in vain. While nothing has since taken place to change, much has occurred to strengthen this opinion. More than two thirds of the State tax now paid by the people of Indiana, is devoted to the payment of the public debt. This tax has been steadily borne through years of discouragement and in the midst of unjust reproaches. When the domestic debt, existing in the form of treasury notes, and used as a currency, is absorbed in this manner, or is disposed of by a different and satisfactory arrangement, all of our State revenue, beyond the current expenses, can be applied to the payment of our foreign debt. By a similar application of the amount saved by the needed reform in our county expenditures, and by strict economy in every branch of the public service, the amount of the annual interest due on our foreign debt would be still further reduced. Should the proposition be again made on the part of our bond holders to take the profits of the canal for such a portion of our public debt as will enable the State, with the aid of the means above referred to, to pay the balance, I doubt not that the people will cheerfully submit to the necessary burthen, which, while it saves the honor, and resuscitates the credit of the State, will, by increased immigration, the enhanced value of property, the restoration of confidence, and the improvement of the credit of our citizens individually, more than compensate them for their outlay.

That such an arrangement will be made as will be satisfactory to our creditors, and will restore the tarnished escutcheon of Indiana to its original brightness, I will not permit myself to doubt. A searching and thorough reform in every branch of our county expenditures, of which I have given a solitary instance, the growing determination among our tax payers to wipe off our reproach, with a liberal spirit and disposition manifested by our creditors to facilitate their doing so,—will secure the consummation of that much desired result.

The early completion of the canal from Lafayette to Terre Haute, would, by the increased revenue to be thence derived, exercise a most favorable influence upon this question. There are yet some thirty-six thousand acres of land granted for that work, which have not yet been selected. I have hitherto abstained from causing the selection to be made, in the hope that permission may be obtained from Congress to make it in the Miami Reservation. Such a measure would have a most important bearing upon the completion of the work. It is hoped that a thorough examination into the causes which have delayed its progress will be made, with the view, if possible, of applying the necessary corrective.

As in the expected communication from the agent of our creditors, some proposition may be submitted in relation to the disposition of the lands, and the construction of the canal, with the precise nature of which, I am not now sufficiently acquainted, any expression of opinion upon those subjects, is, for the present, deferred. I recommend, however, that provision be made to secure to existing settlers upon the lands granted to the State, a suitable indemnity for their labor, by which the lands have been enhanced in value. This is required by justice and is in accordance with the former policy of the State under like circumstances.

I cannot consistently with a sense of duty, omit respectfully calling your attention once more, to the propriety of giving to justices of the peace exclusive jurisdiction in many petty misdemeanors, which are now punishable by indictment in the circuit courts, for reasons set forth in my last annual message. Concurrent jurisdiction might also be given to them in some minor offences of a higher grade, as is now the case in assaults and batteries, affrays and other breaches of the peace; with the same restrictions of securing to the accused, the right of trial by jury, where the same is guaranteed by the constitution; and of providing for his being recognized for trial in the circuit court, either at his own election, or, where the justice shall be of opinion, that the highest punishment which he may be authorized to inflict will not be adequate to the offence. The time of the circuit courts is already so much occupied with trivial prosecutions, as to frequently cause a vexatious delay of justice to parties in the most important civil suits, and the evil must continue to increase with the growth of our population. The punishment by fine, although light, is so much augmented by the costs of court, and other expenses, saying nothing of loss of time, that it is believed there is scarcely a State in the Union where the same grade of offences is visited with so much severity.

The vast and growing amount of our special legislation, is a subject well calculated to arrest attention. Much the greater part of the time of the Legislature is occupied in passing local and private acts, for most of which, it is well worthy of consideration, whether ample provision cannot be made by a few general laws. An illustration is afforded in the laws for the incorporation of towns and churches. It is true that the former has not prevented applications for town charters, but these, it is believed, are in most cases unnecessary, and in all they might be rendered so, by so amending the general law, as to confer the necessary powers. The same local authorities upon whom the law confers the right of establishing ferries, might, under suitable restrictions, be authorized to license toll gates and toll bridges. This would save much delay in making the necessary application for the privilege sought, and would hasten the completion of works of much needed improvement.

At nearly, if not quite every session, special laws are passed for the election of justices of the peace, in addition to those authorized by the general law. In one session as many as seventeen, and in the following session, eighteen such bills were passed. It is respectfully suggested, whether by clothing the Boards of Commissioners with the necessary powers, the object could not be as well attained, the wants of the community sooner met, and no small amount of the expense and labor of legislation saved.

Bills have been passed vacating towns and parts of towns, and to change their names, and examples have not been wanting of successful applications to vacate town alleys. Admitting the power of the legislature to effect each of these objects, it follows, that it can, by a general law be transferred, and, it is believed, more appropriately transferred to the county commissioners.

A more fruitful source of legislation is that of granting corporate powers to seminaries, literary societies, military companies, bands of musicians, to mill and manufacturing companies, and to other objects of a purely local and private character. Within the last eight years, there have been passed in this State, above four hundred private acts of incorporation, mostly for similar objects, making an average of more than fifty voluminous acts for each session. Without discussing the utility of these corporate privileges in every case, the opinion is confidently expressed, that all who need them, might be enabled to attain their object by a general law. By this means, a vast accumulation of private and special acts would be dispensed with, which only serve to lengthen the session, to increase the labors of the members, and what is not of less importance, to withdraw the mind from that full and matured consideration of important questions of a general and pervading character which is demanded by the public welfare. It would be proper in any general law of this character, to limit the amount of property to be held, to provide for the principle of individual liability where the same would be applicable, and to insert the other usual restrictions in our legislation upon these subjects, with a reservation to the General Assembly of the right of modification or repeal.

The policy of confinement in county jails, as a punishment for crime, may, in most cases, well be questioned. It is not only a serious burden on the counties, but it is believed to be incompatible with reformation, which is the leading purpose of criminal punishment. The attainment of this object may be hoped for by the penitentiary system, when made to combine imprisonment, with hard labor, and a suitable moral discipline. But this system, under our present laws only operates upon the higher classes of offenders, and has no bearing upon prisoners in the county jails. Yet there is far more hope of reclaiming the latter by this system than the former, who, generally speaking, are more practised in crime. As a remedy for this evil, the application of the principle of penitentiary discipline upon those guilty of minor offences, as well as upon juvenile and female offenders, by means of Houses of Correction, is respectfully recommended. They should be established with an eye to the comfort and separate employment of the inmates, and to the exercise of a kindly, but firm and steady discipline.

By this means vicious associations would be prevented, and habits of industry formed. For all, who are the children of misfortune, rather than of crime, (and of such, are most of those who have only committed their first offence,) such a retreat would be, not only in name, but in fact, houses of refuge.

A principal obstacle to the permanent reformation of the penitentiary convict, is, that having lost his self-respect, and despairing of ever regaining the good opinion of the community, he feels at his release, that his character is gone and that he has nothing worth living for but the mere support of his animal existence. To obviate this difficulty as far as possible, I established a rule, that on a written report from the clerk of the prison, that a convict had faithfully complied with the rules of the prison, and by his exemplary conduct, had given evidence of reformation, he should be restored to the rights of citizenship—to the same platform whence he had descended, by a pardon, bearing on its face, the cause of its being granted. Four convicts have already availed themselves of this privilege since last February, when the rule was first established, and I am informed by the clerk, that more had entitled themselves to, and would gladly have availed themselves of this favor, but for the fact, that they would thereby lose the small sum of money, which, under an existing law, is paid to every convict at the end of the time for which he is sentenced, as a necessary means of support, until he can get into reputable employment. I recommend that the same law be made to apply to all cases, where the prisoner is released by pardon, within a given time before the expiration of his sentence, and expressly on the ground of good conduct.

The report of the visitor of the State Prison has been received, and will shortly be laid before you, with such remarks as may be required by the subject.

The fixing of the number of Representatives and Senators, and the apportioning of them among the several counties, according to the number of polls lately returned, will devolve upon the present General Assembly. In settling the details of this measure, it is respectfully recommended to your consideration, whether the number of the members in each branch of the Legislature may not be reduced without disadvantage to the public service. Besides the saving to the treasury, which would be effected by such a reduction, the opinion seems to prevail, and not without foundation, that where deliberative bodies are as small as will consist with a due knowledge and representation of the wants of the constituency on the part of their delegation, the dispatch of business is not only greater, but that mature and dispassionate legislation is better secured. On this subject, however, the will of your constituents, of which you are the rightful exponents, and with which you are better acquainted, should be, and I doubt not will be, properly consulted.

The annual reports of the Adjutant General, and Quarter-master General, are herewith submitted. The former contains some suggestions in relation to drawing our full quota of the public arms from the General Government, of which we have been deprived since 1832. My views on this subject, were submitted in my former message, to which reference is respectfully made.

By the latter report it will be seen, that under the direction of the Quarter-master General, there have been collected of the public arms, which had been scattered in various parts of the State, eleven hundred and seventy-five pieces, of which six hundred and one pieces have undergone the necessary repairs.

The recommendation of the last named officer, touching the transportation of arms, commends itself to your favorable consideration, on the score, both of economy and sound policy. The expense of collecting, repairing, and transporting arms, constitutes a large portion of the disbursements from the contingent fund, and as this will be an annual expenditure, it is recommended that it, as well as the postage account, be separately appropriated under their proper heads.

The present may well be regarded as a crisis in the affairs of the State. Some of the various subjects which will engage your attention, are of vital importance to the welfare of Indiana. That there should be an entire unanimity of opinion upon all these questions, and especially as to their details, is not to be expected. But they need, and it is trusted that they will receive, your maturest deliberations, in that spirit of deference, of conciliation, and of concession; which in such cases, is almost essential to success.

JAMES WHITCOMB.

The Senate then retired to their chamber.

Which was not adopted.

The question then being on the adoption of the resolution, it was decided in the affirmative.

On motion by Mr. Mickle,

The House adjourned until to-morrow morning, at 9 o'clock.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 3, 1845.

House met pursuant to adjournment.

Mr. Carnan appeared ; produced his credentials, was sworn into office by the Speaker, and took his seat.

Mr. Hazelrigg, from a select committee, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee, to whom was referred the resolution of the House, relative to the adoption of rules for its government at the present session, together with the amendments, have had that matter under consideration, and directed me to report that they would recommend the adoption of the rules which were in force at the last session for the government of the House at its present session, with the following amendments :

1st. Strike out from the first rule the following words—"on the preceding day ;" they think this amendment necessary in order to point out more specifically the duty of the Speaker at the assembling of the House in the afternoon.

2d. Amend the 20th rule by commencing it with the following words—"After the vote is taken:" the committee think this amendment necessary, for the purpose of the better securing the right of the members to vote, as the rule as it now stands prohibits them from voting unless by unanimous consent of the House, if he is not in the House when the question is put, no matter how well he may be prepared to vote, and may be in the House when his name is called ; yet by the rule as it now stands, he can not vote.

3d. Amend the 31st rule by striking out all after the words "House:" this amendment is thought necessary, to render the rule less objectionable and more in accordance with the rules as laid down by parliamentary writers, and it will not permit any proposition to be divided, the sense of which is not susceptible of it.

4th. Strike out the 34th rule. The committee think that the House may, under the general principles of parliamentary proceedings, prevent any unnecessary consumption of time by the reading of long and irrelevant papers, while the rule might prevent papers from being read which members have an undoubted right to hear before they could or ought to be required to vote, for there are some papers which "nobody can oppose the reading of."

5th. Add to the 44th rule the following—"which commitment shall place the bill in the same stage as are bills committed from a second reading ;" as the 46th rule prohibits an amendment by way of

'rider,' the committee think this addition necessary in order to enable the House to amend the bill so as to make it acceptable to a majority of the House, should the committee to whom it is referred report it back to the House in an objectionable form.

6th. Strike out all after the word "present," when it occurs the first time in the 53d rule; the latter clause being merely a repetition in substance of the first, but from its phraseology, calculated to produce confusion.

Your committee is unable to see any good reason for dispensing with the committee on Federal Relations, as there are papers presented annually from other States for the consideration of the General Assembly which are always of importance and most generally relate to either the rights or duties of the States towards each other in their federal character; and the committee are of opinion, that we have no standing committee to which such papers could with as much propriety be referred as to the committee on Federal Relations. To be sure it may be said, that such papers might be referred to a select committee, and the same might with equal propriety be said of all other papers and subjects that come before the House, and thus dispense with the necessity of all the standing committees. Should there be no business which could properly be referred to that committee, the simple fact of having such a committee will work no inconvenience; while on the other hand should there be, the committee will already be organized.

Your committee would recommend the adoption of the joint rules which are in force for the government of the General Assembly at its last session for its government at the present, and ask to be discharged from its further consideration.

Mr. Secrest moved to amend the report by striking out the standing committee on Federal Relations.

Mr. Carr moved to lay the amendment on the table;

Which was adopted.

On motion by Mr. Seawright,

Resolved, That the Door-keeper be authorized to furnish each member of this House with one copy of the rules and joint rules of the last General Assembly.

Mr. Secrest moved that the rules and joint rules of the last House, except the standing committee on Federal Relations, be enforced for the government of this House during the present session.

Which was adopted.

The Speaker announced the following order of business for the government of this House during the present session.

Which motion prevailed.

On motion by Mr. Mickle,

Mr. Vandever, offered the following resolution:

Which was adopted.

In making this proposition he will require on the part of the State, or of his successor, to take such machinery and such other articles as are in use in the Prison, at such valuation as may be determined by three disinterested persons.

To the General Assembly of the State of Indiana :

Your memorialist, Joseph R. Pratt, would respectfully represent to your Honorable body that he is the Superintendent of the State Prison at Jeffersonville.

That his term of service will expire on the 14th day of June next, and that certain malicious charges have been made against him in the public papers and otherwise, affecting his official conduct, accusing him of cruel and inhuman treatment of the convicts.

Believing the motive of those who have given currency to the charge, to be to prejudice your memorialist in the opinion of members of the General Assembly, and thus to forestal his humble pretensions to re-appointment to the respectable station which he now holds, your memorialist deems it his duty, which he owes to himself as an individual, and as an officer of the government, to repel the charge, and all others that might imply a forgetfulness or disregard of official obligation; and would respectfully request of your Honorable body an investigation of the charge.

Very respectfully,

JOS. R. PRATT.

Which was,

On motion,

Referred to a select committee consisting of Messrs. Meeker, Stewart, Cox, Hinchman, and Tomlinson.

Mr. Vandever, from the select committee to whom was referred the petition of Daniel Dayhuff, made the following report:

Mr. SPEAKER:

The select committee to whom was referred the petition of Daniel Dayhuff for relief, beg leave to make the following report:

That Daniel Dayhuff, in the year eighteen hundred and forty-two, at private sale, bought of the Superintendent of the Loan Office, the north-east quarter, and north-west quarter, and the south-east quarter of section thirteen, in township number eight, range eleven, in the county of Sullivan, which had previously been mortgaged to the Saline Fund, by one Samuel Chambers; and which by reason of the non-payment by said Chambers of the sum of five hundred dollars and interest, for which said lands had been mortgaged, had been offered at public sale and bought by the said Superintendent for the benefit of the State. The said Dayhuff, on the 11th day of February, in the year 1843, bought said lands and paid thereon the sum of fifty dollars, as interest on his said purchase. Also, in the month of January, in the year 1844, paid the further sum of forty-one dollars and eighty-seven cents, all to said superintendent; he also paid to the treasurer of Sullivan county, the further sum of five dollars and 31 cents as State, road, and county taxes, which said several sums of money, he the said Dayhuff paid in good faith.

But in the year 1844, upon tendering the amount of State, road, and county taxes, to the treasurer of Sullivan county, the said Dayhuff was informed by said treasurer, that the lands had been sold for taxes due on said lands before the sale thereof to said Dayhuff; and that the purchasers had went on and destroyed, and hauled off much of the timber, thereby destroying the value of said lands. Furthermore, the committee would state, that the title, the deed for which said superintendent had made to said Dayhuff not being in pursuance of the law, nor the sale of said lands not being in pursuance of the law, was not valid, giving no legal title to said Dayhuff. Then the committee would state, that the State of Indiana, has received into her treasury the sum of ninety-seven dollars and eighteen cents, for which she has never given any consideration, and it would be great injustice that the State thus should receive a sum of money from an individual who received no compensation. And your committee learn that the petitioner for relief, Mr. Dayhuff, is in straitened circumstances, and cannot well lie out of the use of the amount. Under these circumstances, your committee report the following bill, and respectfully recommend its passage.

The bill referred to in the above report is,

Bill No. 15, "Bill for the relief of Daniel Dayhuff, of Orange county;"

Which was read a first time, and passed to a second reading.

Mr. Fuller moved to lay the preamble and resolution on the contested election on the table.

And the ayes and noes being demanded by Messrs. Fuller and Logan, on the passage of the motion.

So said motion was adopted.

Mr. McDonald moved to reconsider the vote taken on the passage of the resolution of Mr. Hazelrigg, that any person presenting a petition or memorial, and it is referred to a standing committee, the person presenting it shall be a member of that committee;

Which was,

On motion,

Laid on the table.

On motion by Mr. Fuller,

Resolved, That the Senate be invited to attend in the Hall of the House of Representatives instantly, to proceed to the election of a United States Senator, and that seats be provided on the right of the Speaker's chair.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

The Senate then came in from their chamber and took their seats on the right of the Speaker's chair, when both Houses, as a convention, proceeded by joint ballot to the election of a United States Senator to fill the vacancy that has occurred by the term of service of the Hon. Albert S. White having expired.

So the House did not adjourn.

Mr. Vandever, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Door-keeper of this House be instructed to contract with the Editors of the Indiana State Sentinel and Indiana Democrat for one copy of each, and with the Editor of the Indiana State Journal for two copies of each of their respective papers, during the present session, for the use of the members and officers of this House, at a price not exceeding one dollar per copy.

Strike out from the word "resolved" and insert that each of the members of this House be permitted to contract with the Editors of the State Journal and Sentinel and Democrat for any number of their papers not to exceed six, to be paid out of the State Treasury.

Mr. Secrest moved to indefinitely postpone the whole subject;

And the ayes and noes being demanded by Messrs. Secrest and Clymer,

Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Baker, Blackwell, Bowman, Brumfield, Burns, Carr, Chambers, Clymer, Coffin, Cookerly, Cornelius, Cruikshank, Davis, Ellis, Ford, Hall of Gibson, Harvey, Henton, Hill, Huff, Jackson, Kerr, Lanius, Logan, Lowe, McCormack, McRae, Meeker, Monroe, Morrow, Nofsinger, Osborn of Laporte, Parker, Pennington, Porter, Rippey, Seawright, Secrest, Smith, Snook, Tedford, Turner, Wiley, Wilson of Noble, and Wise—45.

The land for the canal east of the Tippecanoe river is situated in the counties along the Wabash river, from Tippecanoe county to Allen county, and the land for the extension of said canal is situated in the counties of Jasper, Lake, Porter, White, Richardville, Tipton, Pulaski, Miami and Cass, and by locating the land office at Logansport, all the persons who have business at the office, will be as well accommodated as at present, and for this purpose I am directed to report the following bill:

The white dog lands are much the largest quantity. The first sale was in 1830, and is to be paid out in 1847. The next sale was in 1840 payable in ten years, the last sale was to be paid one-fourth down, and one-fourth per year until paid; interest paid on all one year in advance. There is near or upwards of 400,000 acres of white dog. It commences on the Ohio State line below Fort Wayne, 79 miles above Peru, and extends all along, at least every alternate section, to the mouth of Tippecanoe, 54 miles west of Peru. Some of said white dog canal land lies in Allen, Huntington, Noble, Whitley, Wabash, Miami, Cass, Carroll and White counties. 259,308 acres of blue dog canal land was selected in accordance with an act of Congress, passed February 27th, 1841, which was located as follows, to wit: about 64,736 acres west and northwest of range one west, about 46,750 from range two east, to 3, 4, 5 and 7, mostly 4, 5 and range 7 east. Flat Bellie's Reserve is in range 7 and 8, 20,205 acres, and about 119,163 acres in the Miami Reserve. And further, the undersigned would suggest, that there is now selected, mostly in said Miami Reserve, by order of the Governor, about 34 or 35,000 acres of blue dog land, which selections are awaiting for the confirmation of Congress.

ound and which shall not be sustained in the final trial of the case, have had the subject under consideration, and have directed me to report, that in the opinion of your committee, public policy is against the enactment of such a law—timid persons, in some instances, would probably be deterred from prosecuting the guilty, if they were to be held liable for costs in the event of a failure of the prosecution. These considerations, in view of the fact that the law now in force affords an ample remedy against a person, who from malicious motives puts on foot a groundless prosecution, have brought your committee to the conclusion, that it is inexpedient to change the law in force on the subject set forth in said resolutions.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication.

AUDITOR OF STATE'S OFFICE, }
December 12, 1845. }

HON. JOHN S. SIMONSON,

Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR: The following resolution of the House has been received:

"Resolved, That the auditor of State be directed to report to this House, as soon as practicable, the precise amount of State bonds disposed of on account of the general system of internal improvement of this State, (exclusive of those sold on account of the Wabash and Erie canal) to whom sold, by whom sold, the amount received upon each bond, and the balance due on each bond separately; and explicitly state also, the precise time and date of such sales, and if in his power by whom such bonds are now holden."

In reply to this resolution, I would respectfully state, that tabular statements Nos. 1 and 2, appended to the last annual report from this office, contain all the information in relation to the sale of our State bonds, which it is in my power to furnish. Those statements show the numbers and amount of all bonds sold, on what account sold, the amount sold for, the rate of interest, the date of sale as nearly as can be ascertained, to whom sold, when sold, and the date of authority for the sale thereof; but as to the amount of losses sustained by the State, in consequence of the failure of individuals and corporations to comply with their contracts, this office is in possession of no information. The agent of State, who has had the superintendence of what is called our suspended debt, can alone furnish the Legislature with reliable information as to such losses, both as to the aggregate amount thereof, and the particular bonds upon which the loss has accrued. A resolution addressed to that officer, would probably elicit the desired information as to this point. It is wholly beyond my power, and perhaps beyond that of any person, to state, by whom our State bonds are now held; they pass from hand to hand, in the same manner as negotiable instruments, and may, therefore, be in the possession of one person to-day, and a different person to-morrow.

I am very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

HORATIO J. HARRIS,

Auditor of State.

A message from the Senate, by Mr. Gorman, their Secretary.

MR. SPEAKER:

I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that they have passed the following engrossed bills thereof, as follows:

No. 8. A bill to legalize an election therein named, in the county of Crawford;

No. 13. A bill in relation to the Lawrenceburgh and Napoleon turnpike company;

In which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is respectfully requested.

Mr. Coffin offered the following:

WHEREAS, By the 11th section of an act entitled "An act for the completion of the Wabash and Erie canal from the mouth of Tippecanoe river to Terre Haute," approved January 1, 1842, it was provided in the acceptance that the grant of lands on the part of Indiana for the purposes specified in the above recited act, and was expressly understood on the part of the State of Indiana, between the contracting parties, and was thereby enacted, that should said grant of lands not be sufficient to complete the construction of said canal and defray all other expenses connected therewith, the citizens of this State should not be taxed in any way or manner to make up the deficiency necessary to complete said canal, or any part thereof, any law that might thereafter be passed to the contrary notwithstanding. Excepting, however, that the counties through which said canal might pass, might by petition or otherwise have a law passed levying a tax on their citizens, from time to time, to make up any deficiency there might be to finish said canal, after the proceeds of the grant of lands should be exhausted in such construction;

AND WHEREAS, By the first section of an act amendatory of the aforesaid recited act, approved February the 8th, 1843, it was enacted that the canal land scrip that had been before that time issued or might thereafter be issued, for the completion of the Wabash and Erie canal from the mouth of Tippecanoe river to the town of Terre Haute should be made receivable for all tolls, water rents and transit duties, upon all and every portion of the aforesaid canal from the Ohio State line to Terre Haute, which is in effect to tax the citizens of the State of Indiana. Therefore,

Resolved, That a select committee of five be appointed to enquire into the expediency of repealing so much of the first of the last recited act as authorizes the receipt of the aforesaid canal land scrip for tolls, water rents and transit duties on the Wabash and Erie canal between the Ohio State line and Terre Haute, and that they report by bill or otherwise.

Which was adopted and referred to a select committee consisting of Messrs. Coffin, Cookerly, Julian, Carr and Mickie. And,

Which report was concurred in.

Which report was concurred in.

Mr. Sleeth, from the judiciary committee, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee on the judiciary, to whom was referred the petition of sundry citizens of the county of ——— requesting the General Assembly to modify, amend, or explain chapter 4th of the acts of 1844-'5, in relation to the duties of county treasurers in certain cases, have had the same under consideration, and instructed me to report that, in their opinion, said act is sufficiently explanatory, and already meets the wishes of said petitioners, and therefore deem legislation on the same unnecessary, and ask to be discharged from further consideration on the subject.

Which report was concurred in.

Mr. Hazelrigg, from the committee on education, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee on education, to whom was referred the resolution of the House instructing them to enquire into the expediency of so amending the school law as to render it less complicated and more easily understood, have had that matter under consideration, and directed me to report, that in the opinion of the committee, the best and surest way to secure a general and correct knowledge of the school law by the people generally, is to let it remain as it is, until they shall have time to examine it thoroughly, and by so doing, it will be found that its provisions and details are much less complicated than is generally supposed by the superficial observer. The committee are aware that the length of the school law is complained of by many; but upon a close examination it will be found that none of its provisions can be dispensed with, without destroying the harmony and efficiency of the school system; and when we consider the important and diversified interests connected with our common school system, we must come to the conclusion that it would be difficult to devise any plan that would be less complicated, and at the same time, as efficient as the present.

The committee are also led to the conclusion that the greatest objection to the school law exists with those who manifest the greatest anxiety for an annual and continual change and addition to it, while the committee would recommend that the law be permitted to remain as it is, believing that permitting it to remain as it is, will be the surest way to have it well understood, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration thereof.

Which report was concurred in.

Mr. Seawright, from the committee on education, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee to whom was referred a petition of sundry citizens of Sullivan county, asking a change in the common school law in reference to district trustees in said county, have had the same under consideration and ask leave to report, that in the opinion of your committee, the whole common school law should be remodeled and changed, so that it would more fully carry out the meaning and intent of the law, your committee are of opinion that it would be inexpedient to add to or change any part of said law unless the whole law could be simplified and made less complex, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the same.

Which report was concurred in.

Mr. Carnan, from the committee on education, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

Which was adopted.

Mr. Vandever then moved that the rules be suspended, and the bill be read a third time;

Which motion prevailed,

And said bill,

No. 73. Was read a third time and passed.

Ordered, That the clerk inform the Senate thereof.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication from the agent of State, in answer to a resolution of the House, adopted for that purpose.

To the Honorable the

Speaker of the House of Representatives :

In reply to the resolution of the House of the 11th inst., requiring the agent of State to communicate a detailed statement of the cost of the office of Agent of State during the past year; also, what amount, in his opinion, he will be able to collect during the ensuing year, and from what claims.

The undersigned, Agent of State, has the honor to report that the office of agent of State, has cost the State during the past year $2,329 95.

Which is composed of the following items:

Salary of Agent,	-	-	-	-	-	$1000 00
Salary of Clerk,	-	-	-	-	-	400 00
Travelling expenses of Agent,	-	-	-	-	-	770 00
Postage, stationery, fuel, and office expenses,	-	-	-	-	-	159 95
						$2,329 95

While on the subject of the expenses of this department, I would take the liberty to suggest, that since all, or nearly all the warrants drawn upon the proceeds of the suspended debt, in the hands of the agent, have been paid off, so much less labor is left for a clerk to perform, that in my opinion his duties, at an allowance of half the present cost, might very prudently be devolved on the Auditor of State; and I would recommend therefore, that the books and papers pertaining to the agency, remaining at this place, and the duties of clerk, be transferred to the Auditor of State.

As to what may be collected during the ensuing year, much will depend upon whether sales are effected of the property we hold. From the lots at Jersey city, some $50,000 or $60,000 ought to be realized. The Perril farm in Ohio, and the lots in Buffalo ought to be disposed of. The notes of Books and Post of $25,000 ought, and in all probability will be collected, and it is to be hoped that the claims against the Erie county Banks and Sherwood may still be adjusted in some way, by which we may realize some $10,000.

My opinion is, that out of the suspended debt, (exclusive of the oil factory) about $100,000 more or less will be realized; but whether it can be realized in the coming year, it is impossible to say.

In reply to the resolution requiring the agent, at the same time to furnish a statement of the State bonds given without consideration; also, the amount contracted, if any, without authority of law, I have the honor to report, that under a former resolution of the House, I am now preparing a full table, showing the number of bonds disposed of, when and to whom disposed of, at what price, and, as near as practicable, how much yet remains unpaid. The preparations of this table will require some time; but it shall be presented as soon as possible.

Respectfully,

M. G. BRIGHT, Agent.

Which was read; and

On motion by Mr. Hazelrigg,

Referred to the committee on public expenditures.

MR. SPEAKER:

The joint committee on the State Library, to whom was referred a resolution instructing said committee to enquire into the expediency of having the Legislative papers bound in a cheap style, have had the same under consideration, and find, from an examination of the manner in which said papers are at present kept, that they cannot be preserved as safely, nor rendered of such easy access, as if they were bound in the form of a volume, and arranged according to some regular order, either alphabetically or otherwise. TUESDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 16, 1845.

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

On motion by Mr. Cookerly,
The journal of the preceding day was not read.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication from the commissioner of the Wabash and Erie canal, in reply to a resolution of the House for that purpose.

INDIANAPOLIS, December 15, 1845.

To the Speaker of the House of Representatives :

SIR :—In reply to a resolution adopted by the honorable body over which you preside, as follows :

Resolved, That the commissioner of the Wabash and Erie canal be instructed to make report in detail to this House of his official acts and doings on said canal at as early a day as practicable."

I have to remark, that nothing is detaining the report, but the receipt of information from the Land Office at Peru. During the months of October and November, there is a large quantity of business transacted at that office in the way of receiving interests and payments on land heretofore sold, all of which is required to be reported to the Legislature. Hence the clerk labor in bringing up the books at the end of the year is immense, and can not be furnished short of fifteen or twenty days thereafter. The law requires reports to the 1st of December in each year, very unlike the remainder of the departments, the 31st of October ends the fiscal year in all the executive branches, and I would earnestly recommend that such should be the law for the future in canal operations, and these reports could be furnished as others are, at the beginning of the session in each year. This fact is mentioned for the reason, that some are not aware of the requirements of the present law.

I am aware, too, that the report is looked to with considerable interest, and will be furnished to the House at the earliest moment practicable.

With due respect, I am,

E. F. LUCAS.

Which report was concurred in.

Mr. Thompson, from the committee of ways and means, made the following report.

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee of ways and means, to which was referred a bill of the House, No. 37, entitled “ An act to sell certain lots in Indianapolis,” have had the same under consideration. The State of Indiana deriving her right to the lots mentioned in the preamble of said bill, by virtue of a decree in the Marion circuit court, obtained by the late agent of the surplus revenue fund in said county, by the foreclosure of a mortgage (executed by William R. Chapman) upon lot No. 7, of out-lot No. 39, adjoining the town of Indianapolis, as subdivided by John Wood; also, the undivided one-fourth of lot No. 6, in square No. 51, in the said town of Indianapolis. Those lots, it appears, were mortgaged by said Chapman to secure a loan of $243 33 of the surplus revenue in said county, and not having paid the amount of the mortgage as stipulated, a decree for the sale of the mortgaged premises was obtained in a due course of law to satisfy the mortgage. Upon the sale thereof the said agent became the purchaser for the State at the price of $116 66, leaving a balance upon the decree unsatisfied of $126 67, exclusive of interest and all the costs of suit.

This bill authorizes the sale of said lots for the paltry sum of $116 66, being the amount the agent gave, and by which sale the State would entirely lose the $126 67, the balance of the loan to Chapman and interest thereon, and costs of suit as aforesaid. The only material question that forces itself upon the consideration of the committee is, shall the State authorize the sale of these lots for what they cost the State? or will the State defend the sale and endeavor to realize the amount for which they were mortgaged? Those hereabouts who are disposed to speculate upon the distressed and embarrassed condition of the State, will urge us to sell them by all means for the $116 66 and lose the $126 67. But those who have any desire to husband our funds, and anxiously seek to secure all we can of our insecure debts, most earnestly advise you not to authorize the sale of those lots as provided in the bill, from a full persuasion that the time is not distant when those lots will most certainly sell for much more than the amount of the mortgage, interest and costs of suit.

We are supported in the opinion by the rapid increase of the value of real estate in Indianapolis, and from the certain fact that its value will doubly increase upon the completion of the Madison and Indianapolis railroad to Indianapolis, which will be in the course of the ensuing year. The above premises considered, your committee have unanimously instructed me to report the bill without amendments, and recommend its indefinite postponement, in which the concurrence of the House is respectfully asked.

Mr. Webber moved that the bill and report be recommitted to the committee on the affairs of the town of Indianapolis;

Which motion did not prevail.

Said bill, No. 37, was indefinitely postponed.

Mr. Hazelrigg, on leave granted, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee on public expenditures, to whom was referred the resolution of the House directing them to enquire into the expediency of enquiring into the propriety of abolishing the office of Agent of State, and transferring the duties of that officer to the Secretary or Treasurer of State, have had that matter under consideration and directed me to report that there is yet some business unsettled which might perhaps require the attendance of an officer of the State at points so remote from the seat of government, and for too long a period of time to justify requiring either the Secretary or Treasurer to perform the duties of Agent of State; they are therefore of opinion that it would be improper to abolish the office at this time; but as the duties of that officer have decreased to a considerable extent, and as we have had an Agent for the last four years, at an unjustifiable cost to the State, we suppose that the business pertaining to the office is much less difficult, and will require much less time to attend to than heretofore, we think that the salary of that officer will bear some reduction, and also that his term of office should be limited to one year; the committee have therefore directed me to report the following bill, recommend its passage, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the same.

Mr. Arnold, from the committee on public expenditures, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee on public expenditures, to whom was referred a resolution of the House directing them to enquire into the expediency and probable cost of publishing all statutes of a general and public nature which might hereafter be enacted, containing therein a provision that the same shall be in force from and after their publication in some newspaper printed at Indianapolis, and requiring a copy of such newspaper to be forwarded to each of the clerks of the several circuit courts in this State, have had the same under consideration and directed me to report that they deem legislation on the subject matter contained in the resolution inexpedient, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration thereof.

Which report was not concurred in; and,

On motion by Mr. Baker,

Said resolution was referred to a select committee of seven, viz: Messrs. Baker, Kimberlin, Riley, Hinchman, Parker, Chambers, and Wilson of Noble.

Mr. Kimberlin, from the committee on public expenditures, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee to whom was referred the resolution of the House enquiring into the expediency of making such additional allowance to Andrew Robb, of Madison county, as they might think right and just, for distributing the Revised Statutes of 1843, in the twelfth judicial circuit, have had the same under consideration, and directed me to report as follows: That after hearing the evidence on the part of Mr. Robb, they would recommend an additional allowance of fifteen dollars for the above mentioned service, and ask the concurrence of the House therein.

Said report was laid upon the table.

Mr. Wise, from a select committee, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The select committee to whom was referred the petition of John McIntire, beg leave to report that they have had the same under consideration, and are fully satisfied, not only from the statements of said petition, but from their own personal knowledge of the facts, that much injustice has been done said McIntire in the valuation of the lands referred to in said petition. The thirty-six acres, about which he complains most heavily, though adjoining to the town of Madison, is yet broken, hilly ground, and its value is much nearer $3000, at which it was assessed by the assessor, than $16,000, to which it was raised by the board of equalization. The difference in the State tax alone, between what he now pays and what he would be required at the original assessment, is $26 per annum. This disproportion is altogether too great; and in the opinion of your committee, the wrong ought to be corrected. They, therefore, recommend the passage of the following bill:

No. 170. An act for the relief of John McIntire;

Was read a first time, and ordered to a second reading.

non-resident proprietors be taxed higher than residents; we therefore ask to be discharged from further consideration of the same;

Which was concurred in.

Mr. Smith made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The select committee, to whom was referred the petition of sundry citizens of the counties of Fulton and Kosciusko, have had that subject under consideration, and a majority of that committee have instructed me to report, that the strip which the petitioners ask to be attached to the county of Fulton now justly belongs to said county of Fulton; that it was included in the boundaries of the county of Kosciusko in the Revised Statutes of 1843, through mistake. The committee find, upon examination, that by an act entitled "An act to attach the quarter of township thirty north, of range four east, to Fulton county," this strip is attached to the county of Fulton. The same act has the following provision, to wit: "For the purpose of organizing congressional township schools in said township, and for no other purposes whatever." That subsequently, by an act of the Legislature, approved February 24th, 1840, it is provided, "that so much of the act aforesaid, as says for the purpose of organizing congressional township school and for no other purposes whatever, be and the same is hereby repealed." Leaving said territory attached to said county of Fulton for all purposes. The committee are therefore clearly of opinion that the territory belongs to the county of Fulton. That in the revision of the Revised Statutes of 1843, as before stated, it was included in the boundaries of the county of Kosciusko through mistake. We would further state, that it was the understanding of both counties until the spring of 1845, that this territory belonged to Fulton county, at which time the mistake was first discovered. That the county of Fulton all this time claimed and had jurisdiction over this territory, elected one of their associate judges who resided in this strip, and that her right to this strip never was disputed by the people of Kosciusko until the spring term of the Fulton circuit court, at which time Judge John W. Wright, in examining the boundaries of the two counties declared that by the statute of 1843 this strip was included in the boundaries of Kosciusko, and that the associate judge who resided in this strip, and who had served three or four years, was not in the county of Fulton. We have therefore drawn up the following bill and recommend its immediate passage:

No. 223. An act declaring a mistake in the Revised Statutes of 1843, in relation to the boundaries of Kosciusko and Fulton counties, and for other purposes;

Which was read a first time and ordered to a second reading.

On motion by Mr. Stapp,

The vote taken on bill of the Senate No. 88, to-day on its passage was reconsidered,

And said bill was laid upon the table.

Mr. Mooney from the committee on the affairs of the State prison, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee on the affairs of the State prison, to whom was referred a resolution of the House, requiring them to examine into the conduct of Joseph R. Pratt, superintendent of the prison, his treatment to the prisoners, &c., have had that matter under consideration, and would respectfully report:

That the attention of the committee was first drawn to the complaints made by the visiter of the State prison to His Excellency the Governor, in his report, which has been laid before the House and referred to said committee, relative to the furnishing the cells with bed clothes, the clothing of the prisoners, their diet, and their general treatment by the superintendent.

The clerk of the prison, Dr. Collum, was examined under oath before the committee, upon these matters, and stated in substance, that when the visiter was at the prison, a portion only of the winter clothing for the prisoners, contracted for at Lexington, had been received, and was in a course of preparation, the weather being remarkably fine for the season: but that the superintendent had generally prepared winter clothing for the prisoners early in the season—that straw and blankets, are furnished in the cells during cold weather, and at that time many of the cells were thus furnished—that there are now in the prison more blankets than needed—that the cells are very warm, and that he has frequently seen men come out of them in the morning exhausted and weakened by their excessive heat. That the food of the prisoners consists of good corn bread and bacon for breakfast, of meat, soup, and vegetables for dinner, and fresh meat for dinner three times a week; and of bread and water for supper, but that the prisoners often cooked provisions of their own for supper which they were allowed to purchase with their own money.

That the general treatment of the prisoners by Mr. Pratt, was good, but there were individual cases of rigor, where punishment was inflicted under first excitement—that he was called in one case to see a negro convict by the name of Samson whom he found in convulsions; he had been whipped about an hour before for not fulfilling his task while working at a brick kiln in very hot weather in the month of August. That he believed the convulsions to be caused by drinking cold water, and that the whipping contributed to the prostration of his system—that the symptoms were the same as in the case of a young man who had died from drinking too much cold water, a few days previous.

He farther stated that it was the understanding between himself and Mr. Pratt, that corporeal punishment should not be inflicted, without first having an investigation into the conduct of the convicts—but that there were no written rules framed for the management of the prisoners. That he never saw any one whipped without an investigation, but that convicts were often worked at some distance, and would require summary treatment for violating the discipline of the prison, and that there were many cases of whipping without being investigated by him.

That he believed a majority of the convicts fared better in the prison, than they did at home, and that he believed no exceptions could be taken to the food, clothing, and general treatment of the prisoners, and that a month sometimes elapsed without any whipping.

Mr. Payne the visiter, was also examined under oath, and made substantially the same statements as are contained in his report to the Governor. He alluded to the diet of the prisoners, and stated that there was a mistake in his printed report—that it was printed “baked potatoes and corn bread,” when it should have been “bacon, potatoes, and corn bread.” That he had conversed with Mr. Pratt about the whipping of Samson, the negro, and that Pratt told him he had whipped him, but that he did not give him more than fifteen lashes, and did not think him sick at the time.

Mr. McChesney was also examined under oath before the committee, and stated, that during the first three years of Mr. Pratt’s management of the prison, he was assistant superintendent, and was in a situation that nearly all the punishment inflicted came under his investigation; and that during that time he had not witnessed any harsh treatment of the prisoners. That he had some experience in the management of State prisons, having been engaged in the Frankfort prison during five years, and had also been engaged for sometime in the Missouri State Prison, and that in all his experience, he never saw prisoners treated better than they were in the Indiana State Prison.

The committee deem it unnecessary to pursue the investigation any further, and have directed me to report these facts to the House, and request to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

Which report was concurred in.

Mr. Dowling made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The select committee to whom was referred the petition of E. W. H. Mr. Conduit made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee, to whom was referred bill of the House No. 122, entitled " A bill to provide for the election of township assessors, to define their duties, and for other purposes," have had the same under consideration.

The committee are of opinion that the substitution of officers in the several townships, upon whom would devolve the duty of making the assessments of property, would be the better plan.

In making assessments, it is of course important that the property of all the citizens of the State should be included ; and under the present arrangement a single individual being charged with the duty of listing the property of an entire county, it is reasonable to suppose that many polls and much property escape the payment of taxes by being overlooked. Many such instances have come under the observation of your committee.

The committee are further of the opinion that the expense to be incurred in the assessment of property would be materially lessened by adopting the system proposed in this bill. The provisions requiring lists of property to be handed to the assessors at a time when it is usual for most of the tax payers of the townships to meet at the places of holding elections, would enable the assessor to accomplish as much in one day, as could be done in many under the present system.

The committee cannot see the force of the objection urged by some, who think that property under the system proposed would be unequally appraised. It is the general practice for citizens to give in at least their personal property and improvements at their own appraisalment ; or if left for the assessor to fix the value, it is not probable that any one would be selected who would be unacquainted with the value of his neighbor's property ; indeed it seems reasonable that the intimate knowledge possessed by any intelligent citizen of the quantity, quality and value of the property of his immediate neighbor, would insure the better assessments.

Under the present system it is impossible to avoid the employment of many deputies ; no one officer being able, in the period specified by law, to assess the property of any but the smaller counties ; and the committee can see no good reason why the system proposed should be rejected because more than one officer would be employed in each county.

Entertaining these views, the committee have directed the bill to be reported back to the House with one amendment, and recommend its passage.

Amend by striking out of the 9th section the words " and fifty cents."

Which report was concurred in, and the amendment adopted.

Mr. Shanks moved to amend as follows :

They further find that said bridge was twenty rods in length and twenty feet in width, constructed of large hewed timber, ten inches in thickness and from ten

Mr. Riley offered the following as a protest against the report of the committee on the State's Prison heretofore made:

MR. SPEAKER:

The undersigned, a minority of said committee, regret that it becomes their duty to dissent from the majority in a matter of so much importance as the present. Duty to humanity, a desire faithfully, attentively, and impartially to investigate the conduct of the superintendent of the prison, and its condition, with a view of presenting the result of such investigation for the consideration and action of the House, have demanded of us to report not only the evidence adduced before the committee, but our deductions therefrom, and the application of the law to the case, better to enable the House to see how far the conclusions of the minority are just. The minority if in error in these conclusions, have the consolation, that they are not founded in improper feelings. The superintendent, Joseph R. Pratt, was permitted to appear before the committee with the aid of James Morrison, Esq., as his attorney, and witnesses were introduced to controvert and explain the charges made by the visiter in his report. The superintendent was attentively heard by his attorney before the committee. We will not comment with severity, on the manner of conducting the defence of Mr. Pratt. The manner, however, manifested too much sensitiveness to be consistent with a desire on his part to have a thorough investigation of his conduct as superintendent, and of the treatment of the prisoners.

By the fifth section of the fifty-fifth chapter of the general laws of 1841 of this State, among other things, it is made the duty of the superintendent "to provide for the comfortable clothing and victualing the convicts." Our conclusions from the testimony of all the witnesses are, that the superintendent has been guilty of a violation of this law. Mr. Payne in his report which has been laid before the House, informs us, that on the 15th, 16th, 17th, and 18th days of November, as the authorized agent of the State, he visited the prison, with a view of making a thorough examination of all the matters appertaining to the prison. He reports, that he found some of the prisoners barefoot, and without clothing suitable to the weather at that time." This was testified to by Mr. Payne and Dr. Collum. Pratt attempted before the committee to exonerate himself from this dereliction, 1st: by showing that many of the prisoners were provided with clothing suitable to the season, 2nd: that the weather on the 15th, 16th, 17th, and 18th days of November, was very pleasant, 3d: that he was disappointed in getting his winter supplies.

We cannot admit that the fact, that many of the convicts were comfortably clad at that time, is a fulfilment of the statute that required him as superintendent to provide for the comfortable clothing of all the convicts. They are placed in an attitude where they cannot supply their own wants: and the legislature wisely, and humanely provided that these unfortunate victims should be comfortably fed and clad. The superintendent at the time he took charge of the prison, assumed a faithful compliance with this enactment, and cannot exculpate himself from the just censure of this House and the community. We think it no excuse, that at the middle of November, and after the weather happened to be fine, or that he neglected, or was disappointed in getting his winter supplies. We hold in the language of the visiter in his report "their clothing should be comfortable, and always ready for them." It is true, as it was fortunate for the convicts, that the weather was fair, but not less excusable is Mr. Pratt for this failure.

In addition to the above facts, the minority would respectfully represent, that the evidence shows that the bedding furnished is not sufficiently ample for the comfort of all the convicts. All of the aforesaid facts are substantiated by the report of the visiter, and corroborated by the witnesses interrogated in this case.

The law approved 31st January, 1842, chapter 67, section 13, among other things, it is provided "that the Physician and Clerk of the prison shall be so far considered, and authorized to act as a board of inspectors, as to prevent the infliction upon the prisoners of any unnecessary, cruel, or inhuman punishment, or punishment greatly disproportioned to the offence; and for that purpose, may adopt general rules on the subject, for the guidance of the superintendent."

The legislature doubtless intended by this enactment, to protect the convicts from unnecessary, cruel, and inhuman punishment; and such is the spirit of the law. The question before the House, is this, Has there been a violation of the spirit of the law?

The minority are of the opinion, that the superintendent has been guilty of violating said enactment, in this: In the month of August last, there was an instance of corporal punishment being inflicted on a convict by the superintendent, which the undersigned regret to say, in their opinion from the facts, to be cruel, as well as other cases occurring at other times. Dr. Collum testified, that there had been individual cases of rigor, where punishment had been inflicted under first excitement. The minority regret very much that Dr. Collum, the Clerk of the prison, would, contrary to his duty, permit cases of individual rigor to occur, like those by him detailed in his evidence, to-wit; the case of the convict, whom he found in convulsions, shortly after a severe whipping. The case of the individual who was compelled to pitch bricks until every part of his fingers coming in contact with the bricks, were completely excoriated, and then suffering him to be kept from the hospital. The working convicts barefoot in the lime, &c. Of convicts applying to him for medical aid, the cause for which application was whipping, about which he knew nothing. In each and all the cases above alluded to, the undersigned from the evidence, are compelled to regard the conduct of the superintendent as cruel and inhuman, and a violation of the law, on the part of the superintendent, and a great dereliction of duty, in not preventing such occurrences, on the part of the Clerk. And those conclusions are greatly strengthened by the indefiniteness, evasiveness, and refusal of Dr. Collum, (the Clerk) to answer questions asked him by the committee. It was his duty to prevent occurrences like the above, his failing to do so, it is his interest to conceal the same. The House is referred to the evidence of Dr. Collum, the questions put and refused to be answered, which affords such a commentary upon his relation to the above cases of rigor, as it is hoped they will well consider.

The law approved January 31st, 1842, (page 101) section 15, among other things, provides "that it shall be the duty of the Clerk" * * * "in conjunction with the Superintendent to employ such medical attendance as the health of the prisoners shall require; and such physician so employed shall be allowed such compensation as the said Clerk and Superintendent shall deem reasonable, not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars per annum." The 13th section of the above act provides, "That the Physician and Clerk of the prison, shall be so far considered and authorized to act as a board of inspectors, as to prevent the infliction upon the prisoners of any unnecessary, cruel, or inhuman punishment, &c., may adopt general rules on the subject for the guidance of the Superintendent, &c." The Clerk of the prison is also, by the appointing power vested partially in himself, the Physician of the prison, with the power, in conjunction with the Superintendent, of fixing his own salary as such Physician, to a certain limit, that is to $250,00 per annum. The undersigned does not entertain the opinion, that the Legislature ever designed an unity of the offices of Clerk and Physician of the State prison, in the same person; in other words, the Legislature never designed that one person should at the same time hold both of said offices. In the opinion of the undersigned, such a construction of the law would defeat and render inoperative those wholesome regulations, by destroying the board of inspectors contemplated in the law; and the ability to adopt rules and regulations for the guidance of the Superintendent, and for the protection of the prisoners.

The undersigned think the Clerk, in conjunction with the Superintendent, had no authority to appoint himself physician of the prison; and having made such appointment it was void ab initio. The said offices being incompatible in the same person as before stated. And so far from its being an excuse for either, the Clerk, that those rules for the guidance of Superintendent, and the protection of the convicts, were not made; or for Superintendent, that those humane regulations contemplated in the law were not faithfully observed, that it is a just cause of censure and condemnation, that the Clerk and Superintendent should have combined together, and appointed one of their own number to the office of Physician of the prison; thus in their own wrong, and in violation of the spirit and letter of the law, destroying the department that was intended to protect from unnecessary, cruel, and inhuman punishment those unfortunate beings.

In submitting this report for the action of the House, the minority only differ with the majority in this; the majority only report such facts as they thought material, and relevant; the committee came to no definite conclusions; nor do they ask the action of the House, in the premises. The undersigned report substantially all the evidence given; questions proposed and refused to be answered, and ask the concurrence of the House in this report, and that the accompanying preamble and joint resolutions may be adopted.

R. A. RILEY.

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee, to whom was referred a resolution of the House instructing them to enquire into the expediency and probable cost of publishing all statutes of a general and public nature, which may hereafter be enacted, containing therein a provision that the same shall be in force from and after their passage, in some newspaper printed at Indianapolis, have had the same under consideration, and have ascertained that the probable cost of publishing the statutes contemplated by the resolution, would be from thirty to sixty dollars per annum. This conclusion is based upon the assumption that the statutes passed at the last session of the General Assembly, which took effect from and after their passage, will not be greatly exceeded either in length or number, by those of the same description, which may be passed by the present or any future session. The acts of the last session of the General Assembly, which were in force from and after their passage, occupy about 55 pages of the statute book of 1845. Your committee have corresponded with the proprietors of three of the principal journals printed at the seat of government on the subject of said resolution, and have been informed by two of them that they would be willing to publish the statutes in the manner pointed out by the resolution for twenty cents per square of two hundred and fifty ems, which would be equal to one dollar per page of the statute book. The proprietor of the other paper expressed his willingness to publish said statutes for about half that sum, to wit : for fifty cents per page of the statute book, which would be equal to about ten cents per square of two hundred and fifty ems. The Legislature annually passes statutes containing a provision that the same shall be in force from and after their publication in one or more of the newspapers of this city, and for publishing these the State has been paying fifty cents per square of two hundred and fifty ems. The expense of publishing all the statutes contemplated by the resolution, at the reduced rates at which they can now be published, will not amount to more than the State has been annually paying for publishing those statutes, (comparatively few in number,) which contained a clause requiring that they should be published in some newspaper. The importance of an early dissemination of the laws among the people who are to be governed by them cannot be too highly estimated, and no species of tyranny is more reprehensible or more at war with republican institutions than that which requires the citizen to conform his conduct to a rule of action that has never been promulgated by the law-making power. In view of which, your committee have instructed me to report the following bill and recommend its passage :

No. 323. A bill to require certain statutes to be published in some newspaper at Indianapolis, and for other purposes ;

Was read a first time, and ordered to a second reading.

Mr. Mooney, on leave granted, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee on the affairs of the State prison, to whom was submitted a proposition of Mr. Simon Bottorff, for a lease of the new State prison, have had the same under consideration, and a majority of the committee have directed me to submit the following report:

The proposition of Mr. Bottorff is for the lease of the new penitentiary for the term of ten years after the expiration of the term of the present superintendent. He offers to give bond with security for the punctual payment, in ten annual instalments, of the sum of eighty thousand dollars, for the rent of the establishment and the labor of the convicts. He furthermore agrees to pay the expense incurred in the clothing and sustenance of the convicts, and affording them religious instruction. The convicts are to be employed in the rolling of iron, and other manufactures, and the internal policy to be regulated by such rules as the Governor or the Legislature may direct. He reserves the right of removing, at the expiration of his lease, such machinery as he may have erected.

The above statement comprises substantially the terms offered by Mr. Bottorff. As they alter in some essential particulars the plan adopted by the existing law, they have been considered by the committee with that attention which their importance was so well calculated to command. The majority of the committee are clearly of the opinion that the proposition should not be entertained by the General Assembly.

Should the State abolish the office of superintendent, and place the institution in the hands of lessees, it would be obviously proper that public notice should be given, and sealed proposals received, with the view of inviting competition, and securing the most advantageous terms to the State. This practice is adhered to in other cases where the State wishes to form a contract on the most favorable conditions, and its propriety is sustained alike by her regard for her own interests, and by the equal opportunities it affords to all of our citizens who may wish to invest their means in public contracts. Your committee can see no valid reason why a practice so unexceptionable should in this instance be departed from.

By a reference to the official account of the assets of the institution, appended to the report communicated by the Auditor of State to the General Assembly of this session, the average profits of the penitentiary can be readily ascertained. From the statement furnished by the clerk of the prison to that officer, in compliance with the provisions of the statute, it appears that the assets of the institution, on the first day of October, A. D. 1845, after deducting all liabilities, amounted to eighty-three thousand five hundred and eighty-two dollars and forty-nine cents. This item exhibits the nett proceeds from the fourteenth day of June, 1841, a period of about four years three months and a half. The State being entitled to an equal share of the profits, the amount to which she would be annually entitled, is from nine to ten thousand dollars, being from from one to two thousand dollars more than the proposal of Mr. Bottorff. It is also well known, that during the term of the present superintendent, the value of labor and the profits of industry have been seriously affected by the depression which has prevailed in the monetary affairs of the country, and by the diminished prices of the productions of agriculture. It is confidently believed that the profits of the establishment will be greater for the next five years, than they have been for the last. The State, by acceding to the proposition, would thus sustain a pecuniary loss; and this fact alone constitutes, in the opinion of the committee, a fatal objection to it.

The State should not so legislate as to promote a private at the expense of a public interest.

The proposition fixes the period of ten years for the duration of the lease. Should the State accept it, it will not be in her power to alter or rescind it, unless in pursuance of a right expressly reserved. No such right is contemplated to be granted to the State by the terms of the proposition. The institution will then, for the next ten years, be in the hands of a private citizen, who, while he pays only a stipulated sum to the State, will be interested in making the labor of the convicts a source of individual emolument. Should the State in the mean time desire to take the institution into her own hands, it will not be in her power, consistently with the terms of the contract, to do so. The majority of the committee conceive that neither the character nor interests of the State will be consulted by acceding to the proposition.

The majority of the committee have confined themselves in this report to the consideration of the proposals of Mr. Bottorff; and they regret that, owing to the pressure of their other public duties, they have done the subject but limited justice. The committee are unanimously of the opinion as to the inexpediency of the State, at this time, taking the institution into her own hands; and their report will be submitted at an early day to the consideration of the House.

The majority of the committee are of the opinion that they would take a narrow and mistaken view of the duty of the State, were they to regard the penitentiary chiefly with a view to the amount of revenue to be derived from it. They are aware that the institution is connected with the administration of public justice. Confinement at hard labor within its walls, is the prescribed punishment for offences of an aggravated nature.

Its discipline and government are therefore subjects of vital importance. They regard alike the faithful execution of those legislative provisions that have been enacted to secure the peace of society and the rights of person and property, as also those unfortunate individuals who are subjected to the penalties which the laws impose upon convicted guilt. Upon the habitual maintenance of a rigid though humane discipline, depends the success of the institution, and the solution of the problem, whether it may not be the means of reformation as well as punishment, or whether the destiny of the convict, when he leaves its walls, is to be that of an embittered outcast, at war with society, without hope or moral sensibility, and prepared for a bolder career of crime.

The majority of the committee do not deem it necessary to discuss in this report any of those interesting questions connected with the discipline and government of the prison. They are not pertinent to the discussion of the merits of the proposition; but the committee, in their deliberations, have not lost sight of them.

The majority of the committee, for the reasons above stated, would respectfully report to the House that they deem it inexpedient to accept the proposition submitted by Mr. Bottorff to the General Assembly; and ask to be discharged from its further consideration.

Which was,

On motion by Mr. McDonald,
Laid upon the table.

Mr. Hazelrigg made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee, to whom was referred the resolution of the House instructing them to enquire into the propriety of providing a fund for the extinguishment of the State debt, and to prepare and report a table showing the accumulative capacity of such a fund at five per cent. per annum for any number of years up to thirty, and showing also the result of such a fund forborne for a given period, and compounded at the same rate, would report that they have prepared a table such as that required in the resolution, which is referred to and made part of this report, marked A. As to the expediency and propriety of providing a fund for the extinguishment of the State debt, they do not entertain a doubt, and the result shown by the table referred to, is in their opinion conclusive. By an inspection of the table it will manifestly appear, that if the State owed $100,000 per annum as interest, and instead of providing the means of payment were to rely upon borrowing money to pay it, she will at the end of thirty years have increased her debt by the payment of interest alone, to $6,976,057; whereas, by providing an annuity of $100,000, and continuing and re-investing it for thirty years, at the end of that time the State would be prepared to pay off a debt of $6,976,057. By the first operation the State would lose in interest alone, $3,976,057, and by the second, she would save that sum, making a difference of $7,952,114. Need any doubt as to which would be the most prudent course? But it may be objected that such a fund could not be managed to advantage, and that it would be impossible to re-invest and compound it so as to realize the amount. By dealing in the bonds of our own and other States of undoubted credit, and in exchange when the fund would afford the means, your committee believe these objections may be removed, and the extinguishment of our State debt effected without burthening the people with oppressive taxation. The calculations have been made at five per cent. in accordance with the instructions of the resolution, but the committee are of opinion that that is the lowest per cent. that could under any circumstances, unless they were unusually and unexpectedly adverse, be expected; while under ordinary circumstances and management, from seven to nine per cent. might be realized.

The calculations in the table marked A, are based upon the assumption that the several instalments of $100,000 each are payable at the commencement of each year, and the interest at the end of the year, as numbered in the margin; the first instalment, therefore, will amount to $105,000, principal and interest, at the end of the first year. At the commencement of the second year, the second instalment is assumed to be paid—making the total amount to be put at interest for that year $205,000, the interest on which will be $10,250, and this added to the principal gives the accumulated amount at the end of the second year $215,250. At the commencement of the third year the third instalment is assumed to be paid, making the total amount placed at interest for that year $315,250—the interest on which is $15,762; accumulated amount at the end of three years $331,012, and so on for the series.

The columns headed 1st, 2d, 3d, &c., show the interest for each annuity separately. The columns on the right show the aggregate of interest and principal, and the sum of both, or the sum of the several accumulated amounts of interest on all the annuities, (given separately in the horizontal lines,) added to the whole amount of principal paid in for any number of years in the margin, from the time of the payment of the first instalment.

Take for example ten years. The interest on the first instalment or annuity is $62,889; on the second $55,132; on the third, $47,745; and so on in the horizontal line, the aggregate amount of interest as carried out in the first of the right hand columns is $320,675; the ten instalments paid in is $1,000,000; and the aggregate amount of principal and interest is $1,320,675, and so on for any other period.

The columns headed 1st annuity, 2d, 3d, &c., also exhibit the amount of compound interest accruing upon a single sum of $100,000 at five per cent. for any number of years in the marginal column, to which if is added the principal, the result will show the aggregate amount. For example: the interest for twelve years is $79,585, to which add the principal, $100,000, and the accumulated amount at the end of that period is $179,585; for twenty-four years the interest is $222,509, and the amount of principal and interest is $322,509; for thirty years the interest is $332,193, and principal and interest $432,193.

Should the amount of any greater or lesser sum or annuity be required under the above condition, it may be ascertained by direct proportion. For instance, $50,000 will produce one half the amount that $100,000 will, and $200,000 double the amount. An annuity of $450,000 will in thirty years produce $31,392,255, and our State debt for the payment of the interest on which there is no provision will amount to $30,553,920 in the same time, if there is no provision made for the payment of the interest; but if the interest is provided for, an annuity of $100,000 managed upon the principle laid down in the table will redeem the principal in thirty-eight years, and leave a surplus of $219,083; but if the annuity was at six per cent. instead of five, it would pay the principal of the debt in thirty-four years, and the committee think it entirely probable that the fund could be invested in stocks that would even yield more.

Should the Legislature think proper to create a sinking fund at this time, (of the propriety of which the committee have no doubt if it can be done without onerous taxation,) and keep it supplied with a constant and sufficient income, the commissioners thereof might at the present depreciated value of the stocks of some of the States, make an investment that would be equal to from twenty to thirty per cent., an operation that would not only be both laudable and justifiable, but entirely unexceptionable, and by which we would be enabled to extinguish the principal of our State debt in a much shorter time than either of the periods above stated. In order to raise an annuity of $100,000, it would only require a poll tax of ten cents on each poll, supposing the number of polls for the present year to be 130,000, and a property tax of six and one-fourth cents on the one hundred dollars, supposing that there will be $140,000,000 of taxable property, and as the number of polls and the amount of property increases, the taxes could be lessened, or if kept at the same rate, would increase the resources of the sinking fund to a greater extent and thereby enable it the sooner to extinguish the debt.

In the present embarrassed condition of the finances of the State, the committee think that it would be improper to raise so large an annuity at first; but that we might commence by raising a smaller one, and increase it as circumstances and the ability of the State would justify. Should this be thought to be the most prudent course, the table hereto annexed marked B, and made part of this report, will show that an annuity of $50,000 under the principles laid down in tables A and B will in five years at five per cent. amount to $290,095; increase the annuity for the next five years to $100,000, and at the end of the time (ten years,) the amount produced will be $950,435; for the next five years let the annuity be increased to $150,000, and the amount at the end of that time (fifteen years,) will be $2,083,307; increase the annuity for the next five years to $200,000, and at the end of that time (twenty years,) the fund will be increased to $3,819,156; for the next five years let the annuity be increased to $250,000, and at the end of the time (twenty-five years,) the fund will be $6,324,802; then increase the annuity to $300,000, and in seven years, or at the end of thirty-two years, (1878,) the fund will amount to $11,464,365—being $374,363 more than the unprovided for principal of our State debt. Thus it will be seen, that by an operation of this character, our State debt may be paid off in less than thirty-two years, and that without a resort to burthensome taxation—a thing much to be desired, and one that the people of the State will cheerfully aid in bringing about to the utmost of their means, and all that is necessary to induce them to lay hold of some plan is for them to see the way clear before them: but if there are doubts and uncertainties as to the result of any plan that may be adopted, it will be viewed with suspicion, worked to with diffidence, and consequently cramped and retarded in its operations.

The committee do not permit themselves to doubt for a moment but that there is not only a willingness but an anxiety on the part of the people of Indiana to extinguish, at the earliest practicable period, all their just and legal liabilities.

In order to raise the annuities as calculated in table B, it is supposed that the number of polls will increase 6,000 annually; the number the present year will be 130,000, and under a re-valuation of the real property of the State, we suppose that the taxable property will amount to $140,000,000; should this be a correct supposition, five cents poll and three and one-fourth cents property tax will raise $52,000; and supposing the increase of polls to continue at 6,000 annually, and the increase of taxable property to be $6,000,000 annually, in 1850 the number of polls will be 154,000, and $164,000,000 worth of property, so that for the first five years, from 1846 to 1850 inclusive, an average of four and a half cents poll, and three cents property tax, will raise the annuity required for that period. In 1851, when the first annuity of $100,000 will be to raise, ten cents poll and five cents property tax will raise $101,000; in 1855, seven cents poll and four and one half cents property tax will raise $100,100, so that an average of eight and one half cents poll, and four and three-fourth cents property tax will raise the annuity for the second term of five years, from 1851 to 1855 inclusive; for the third term of five years, from 1856 to 1860 inclusive, an average of six and one-eighth cents property tax will raise the annuity for that time—the annuity being $150,000, without a resort to any poll tax whatever. For the fourth term of five years, from 1861 to '65 inclusive, the annuity is $200,000, which can be raised by a property tax of less than eight and three-eighth cents average. For the fifth term of five years, from 1866 to 1870 inclusive, the annuity will be $250,000, which will require an average of nine and one-fourth cents tax on the $100 worth of property. From 1871 to '78 inclusive, a term of seven years, the annuity is $300,000, which could be raised by a property tax of less than ten cents on the one hundred dollars. See table marked C accompanying and made part of this report.

The committee have not considered themselves authorized or required by the resolution to take into consideration the past, present, or future interest on our State debt; and as the providing for that part of our liabilities was in the hands of another committee, we have refrained from making any suggestion relative thereto.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

to continue at 6,000 annually, and the increase of taxable property to be $6,000,000 annually, in 1850 the number of polls will be 154,000, and $164,000,000 worth of property, so that for the first five years, from 1846 to 1850 inclusive, an average of four and a half cents poll, and three cents property tax, will raise the annuity required for that period. By Mr. Secrest,

No. 395. A bill to provide for the payment of the members and officers of the General Assembly;

Which were each severally read a first time, and ordered to a second reading.

Mr. Secrest made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee of ways and means to which was referred a resolution of the House, requesting said committee to examine whether or not there is any law making it the duty of county collectors to assess and collect taxes on lands that may have become taxable, and not assessed by former assessors; and if there is no general law on that subject that they be requested to report a bill making it the duty of the several collectors in this State to assess and collect on all lands that may have been taxable and not assessed as far back as the year 1841, have according to order had that subject under consideration, and have directed me to report:

That by the 45th section of the Revised Statutes of 1843, chapter 12, it is provided, that "county auditors in making out the tax duplicate for the county treasurers, shall be careful to enter thereon all the lands previously entered for taxation, with the valuation thereof as theretofore assessed; and all such lands as by mistake or neglect shall have been omitted to be entered," and by the 63d section of the same chapter, there is a further provision, that "the lien of the State for all taxes for State, county, road, school, or township purposes, shall attach on all real estate on the first Monday of March annually; and that such lien shall be perpetual for all taxes due from the owner thereof, which have theretofore accrued or should thereafter accrue, with the interest and penalties," &c., but the committee have not been able to find any provision requiring county auditors or treasurers to enter such lands upon the duplicate, and to charge against them the taxes of former years, and making provision for the collection thereof in the manner suggested in said resolution, and forasmuch as it would be manifestly just and right, that such omission or neglect should not exempt the owner or owners from the payment of the taxes due, they have directed me to report to the House the following bill and recommend its passage.

Mr. Stapp made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on the State Bank, which was charged with the enquiry whether the several branches of the State Bank of Indiana are in the habit of renewing the certificates of deposit drawn by each other, and whether the holders of such certificates are required to sell the same at a discount, and if so, what discount? And also, whether any of said branches are in the habit of discrediting each other's certificates by refusing to renew such certificates of deposit, have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report the answers of the cashiers of the State Bank and the Branch Bank at Indianapolis respectively, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration thereof.

Said answers are in the words following, to wit :

OFFICE OF STATE BANK, }
Indianapolis, December 20, 1845. }

HON. MILTON STAPP, Chairman :

SIR:—In reply to the enquiry of the House of Representatives, contained in the resolution which you have handed me, as to the custom of the Branches of this Bank with regard to each other's certificates of deposit, I have to say, that we understand such custom to be, mutually to receive each other's certificates of deposit at par, when the state of demand upon them for the business of their section of the State will justify their immediately paying the cash on such certificate; and when they cannot use the funds at the point whence the certificate is issued, it is usual to make such charge for cashing it as will compensate for the expected delay in procuring the money from the Branch issuing the certificate; and this from the necessity of the case, and not with any view of discrediting a sister Branch whatever.

At the present season of the year, when at every branch there is a most pressing demand for currency at its counter for carrying off the produce of its vicinity, it is frequently impossible for Branches to cash certificates of deposit on other Branches, where their customers could not be expected to go to procure funds for business.

The Directors of the State Bank encourage the most liberal extension of credit between the Branches within their power.

Very respectfully yours,

JAMES M. RAY, Cashier.

BRANCH BANK, }
Indianapolis, December 20, 1845. }

HON. MILTON STAPP, Chairman :

SIR:—In answer to the resolution of the House of Representatives conveyed to me in your note of the 18th instant, (handed to me on this day,) making enquiry as to the habit of the several Branches of the State Bank in receiving the certificates of deposit of each other, I would state, that it is the custom of this Branch to cash or receive on deposit at par, the certificates issued by those Branches where, in the regular course of our business, they can be used without loss, but when issued by Branches which are out of the range of our business, or where in the course of our transactions the balance would be decidedly in our favor, a charge is made at such rate as will compensate for the delay in returning the funds.

During that portion of the year when our dealers are most actively engaged in purchasing and carrying off the produce of the country, it has occurred that the demand for currency was so urgent that we were compelled to refuse cashing the certificates used by other Branches, not for want of confidence or with a view to discredit the issuing branch, but from necessity.

Respectfully yours,

THOS. H. SHARPE, Cashier.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

Mr. Cookerly made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The select committee to whom was referred a communication from the commissioners of the Sinking Fund, asking an investigation into their conduct as commissioners, and the condition of the fund under their control, have, in pursuance of their appointment, made an examination of the fund, and the conduct of the Commissioners, and most respectfully submit the following report.

It will be proper to say, that the committee did not deem it expedient to enter upon that deep and thorough investigation of the matter, as they would, had time and circumstances permitted. The records were not minutely searched for the purpose of information, relative to the situation of the fund; but reliance was placed, and we think safely too, upon the statements of James M. Ray, Clerk of the Board, detailed to us under oath. Resort was also had to the testimony of Mr. McChesney, who is assistant Clerk of the board, and keeps the books. From these two gentlemen, together with a partial examination of the books, the following statement was obtained.

The whole amount of the State loans for banking purposes, and the premiums received on the same, were drawn by Samuel Merrill, Esq., former President of the board, (except the part of the premium from which the Fund Commissioners were paid) and charged to him; and his account is balanced by his applying the proceeds to the payment of the State's Bank capital loans to stockholders, to pay part of their stocks, and other loans, and the residue made subject to the appropriations of the Sinking Fund Board.

Part of the proceeds of the State loan was appropriated to the charge of Robert Morrison and Lucius H. Scott, Commissioners, who accounted for the same, and all their receipts of the fund in loans made and reported to the Board, regularly, and the balance adjusted, and their accounts closed.

As much of the dividends on the charter capital as was required, has been applied to the payment of the interest on the bank bonds in full, up to last July, as the receipts from the Merchant's Bank, New York, show, and the remainder subject at each branch to the order of the commissioner for the loans or appropriation of the Board. The dividends received on the mortgages of stockholders, is semi-annually carried to the credit of each mortgagor; after the same is declared he is charged with the accruing interest, and any excess of the dividend over such interest is applied to the reduction of the principal debt.

The interest received is entered, with the day of its receipt, posted to each borrower's loan, and the total amount received every month carried to the credit of the interest account, and to the debit of the office, branch, or commissioner receiving it, or to whose account it is to be carried for adjustment.

In November 1843, General Drake and Colonel Pepper, two of the commissioners, were appointed by the board to examine the condition of the Sinking Fund, including all the mortgages, and the expenditures and vouchers from the commencement.

These mortgages had all been taken by their predecessors, and they made abstracts of them which are on file, and submitted to us, and by which the whole amount of the unpaid mortgages of the fund, up to December 4th, 1843, was found to be $705,565 73, which agreed within $13 79 with the balance on the books of the fund, which difference the committee state in their report. They were unable to say, in taking an account of the unpaid balances of so large an amount of mortgages, whether it was in their abstract or not.

From that, December 4th, 1843, to the date of the last report,

December 1st, 1845, the amount credited of loans
refunded, - - - - -	$114,277 92
Of which there is refunded by sales of forfeited lands on credit, - - - - -	42,591 72

Leaving the net amount realized of loans,	$71,686 20
---	--------------------

Losses realized on loans by sale of forfeited lands, in same period, - - - -	904 00

$72,590 20

Which taken from the amount of loans on Decem- ber 4th, 1843, - - - -	$705,579 52
--	--------------

Leaves the balance of mortgages on the 1st of De- cember, 1845, - - - -	632,989 32
--	------------

Add to this balance, the amount of loans on notes,	2,054 30
--	----------

Makes the total amount of loans,	$635,043 62
----------------------------------	--------------

Agreeing with the amount in the report of that date, December 1st, 1845.

The loans on the notes, according to the statement of Mr. Merrill, former President, by whom they were made, reported by such committee were for a greater part, loans made of uncurrent paper, which had been received in the office, and which was so disposed of as to save the State from heavy losses; others made in anticipation of mortgages, which for various causes were not furnished, others for giving inducements to persons to buy lands, which were considered hard cases, and others to prevent sales of land, for non-payment of interest. These notes are deemed entirely secure.

The amount of mortgages given by stockholders of the bank, for the means of paying part of the instalments of their stock unpaid, is $171,896 45. These are secured, not only by the mortgaged land, but by the application of the excess of the dividends on the stock of the borrowers, over and above the interest on the mortgage.

The same committee had an abstract made of all the expenditures of the Sinking Fund, from the commencement in 1834, to February 1844, when the committee reported to the board; which expenditures were generally made by the commissioners in office before those comprising the committee, which abstract we examined. In this abstract, the objects of expense are classed, and the person receiving each sum is stated, and the abstract has been carried forward from February, 1844, to the 1st day of December, 1845, the date of the last annual report as submitted to us. From which it appears the expenses have been as follows;

To the commissioners for services and expenses,	$13,607 91
To clerk and assistant, - - - -	9,330 08

For printing, rent, and all other incidental expenses, - - - -	$8,648 17

For expenses of making loans for banking purposes,				4,799 14

For interest and exchange,	-	-	-	27,144 95

Total expenditure,	$681,015 87
Corresponding with the items in the last annual report.

The five per centum damages which are charged on every mortgage forfeited, when the land is sold to an individual purchaser, and not to the State, and which amount to $4,379 05 from the commencement, have never been drawn from the fund or any part thereof, by the commissioners. This five per cent. is claimed by the commissioners as a part of their salary, and the committee, after an examination of the law, are led to believe that they are entitled to the same. This being the case, we would especially recommend a repeal of all law under which the commissioners claim these damages, and the passage of an act giving the five per cent. damages to the fund, and let it become a part and parcel of the same. This is the most important of all the trust funds, and it behoves us to resist every thing, having a tendency to reduce it, and make every exertion compatible with right and justice to increase it.

The commissioners hold their regular sessions at the quarterly sessions of the board of directors of the State Bank, during the recesses of such directors' session, in parts of the day and evenings; and during such session they charge their two dollars per day as such commissioners, for the same day that they receive three dollars per day as directors of the bank; but they do not charge their expenses as commissioners at such sessions while the State Bank directors are in session. At one session, in July 1845, held specially on account of appraising lands, when the bank board were not in session, they charged one dollar and fifty cents for their expenses while in session, as well as coming and returning.

While travelling to and from their regular sessions, at the quarterly meetings, they charge two dollars per day for the time in travelling, but no expenses, as they receive mileage from the bank. While engaged under the law of last year, in examining and re-appraising forfeited lands, they charged two dollars per day, and one dollar and fifty cents for expenses, amounting, with expenses of the special session in July, and twelve dollars for making plats by one of the commissioners, to $959 05.

The committee are well satisfied that the charges made by the commissioners, are not too high, and therefore free from all censure. It might, however, be supposed by some, that while they are in session at their regular quarterly meeting, they ought not to receive pay both as directors and commissioners. But we regard it as but right and proper that they should so do. And, at the same time, we are constrained to say, that the commissioners' salaries are entirely inadequate to the great responsibility, which rests upon them. We therefore, can find no fault with, nor attach any blame to them for receiving the same. They are certainly entitled to such pay, under the law. In regard to the pay and expenses of the commissioners, while re-appraising the lands, the committee are of opinion, that they were not exorbitant, nor any more than was absolutely necessary. We have said this much on this part of the subject, in justification of the commissioners, and to silence the unjust reports, which have been in circulation throughout the country. We believe the fund to be entirely safe in their hands, and so long as they have the control of it, (with the present clerks,) no danger need be apprehended. While we are thus sanguine of its safety, we would respectfully urge the legislature to guard it well. And for the purpose of better securing the Sinking Fund, and all the trust funds, we would recommend an additional standing committee to be constituted, to be called the committee on the trust funds of the State, whose especial duty shall be to examine said funds, and report to the House. It might probably be more expedient to have a joint standing committee appointed by both the Senate and House of Representatives. We do not think it essential to enter into a lengthy argument, to prove the policy of the above recommendation, for we regard it as too obvious to need any argument to sustain it. With this view of it we hope the suggestion will be carried out by prompt action of the House, and if necessary, coincided in by the Senate.

The question was asked Mr. McChesney, (assistant clerk of the board) whether any of the commissioners had purchased any lands at the different sales. In reply to which Mr. McChesney stated that Mr. William Daily, (one of the commissioners) purchased three tracts of land, amounting in all to $1,703 47; two lying in Randolph county, and one in Henry county. It was understood at the time, that he bought them at the request of the mortgagors. We do not consider this as a just cause of censure against Mr. Daily; but we must be permitted to say, that it was a great indiscretion. Such things should not occur, however innocently they may be done. We will now give a brief statement how the books are kept, and business transacted by the board, and some of the rules and regulations which they are governed by, and bring this report to a close.

The mode in use of receiving funds and disbursing the same, is as follows;

Each commissioner receiving funds is expected to account at every quarter session of the board.

The payments at the office are to the clerk. The kind of funds paid by each individual, is distinctly entered in the books; and, if in scrip, the interest allowed is also entered, the scrip is enveloped in a separate wrapper, with name of the payer of it, the amount of scrip and interest allowed on it endorsed; and on the first Monday of each month, all the funds received during the preceding month, are paid to James P. Drake, one of the commissioners, acting as treasurer, who deposits them in the branch Bank at this place, and pays all checks for allowances of the board, and redeems the scrip held by the branches with the bankable money received as ordered from time to time by the board.

Whenever the scrip on hand amounts to $10,000 or oftener, and always within each quarter, the commissioner acting as treasurer of the board with the clerk, delivers the scrip to the treasurer of State for registering and cancelling, taking his receipt. The amount of such treasury notes delivered over, according to the vouchers of the treasurer and auditor of State on files, is as follows:

Amount received by George H. Dunn, former treasurer, in scrip,	$ 55,680	Int. $ 474 67
By the present treasurer in scrip,	180,275	Int. 18,814 07
Total scrip,	$ 235,955	$ 19,288 74
Corresponding with these items in the last annual report.

Under this system, the president of the board has had no part of the duties to perform of re-appraising of lands, or receiving any of the funds.

At each quarterly session of the board of directors of the State Bank, a committee of the board is appointed to settle with the commissioners of the Sinking Fund, ascertain the receipt of the fund during the preceding quarter, and receive from the fund, the bankable ble money taken in, not required for expenditures in exchange for Sinking Fund Scrip held by the bank.

Annexed to this report will be found a condensed general review of the condition of the fund prepared and furnished to the committee by James M. Ray.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

G. F. COOKERLY, Chairman.

The committee ask to be discharged, &c.

Which was concurred in.

Mr. Mooney, chairman of the committee on the State Prison, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on the State Prison, to whom was referred so much of the message of his Excellency, the Governor, as relates to the State Prison, have had the subject under consideration. They have unanimously directed me to submit the following report:

The message submits but one recommendation in regard to the institution at Jeffersonville which can be made the basis of legislative action. When the convict, by his exemplary deportment and a faithful compliance with the regulations of the Prison, has given evidence of reformation, the Governor, under a rule which he has established, grants to such a convict, a short time before the expiration of his sentence, a pardon, bearing on its face the cause for which it is granted. The committee believe that this rule will have a most salutary effect in stimulating the prisoner to discharge his duties with alacrity, and to manifest a submissive and becoming demeanor. In order, however, that it may fully accomplish its intended results, a slight change in the existing law is requisite. By the twenty-first section of an act entitled "An act for the regulation of the State Prison," approved February 17th, 1838, it is provided that "at the time of the discharge of any prisoner who shall have served out the full term for which he was committed, it shall be the duty of the Superintendent of the State Prison to give to such convict three dollars." This small gratuity was designed to furnish a temporary support to the prisoner, who might otherwise be driven, by immediate want, to the commission of crime, before he could obtain the means of an honest livelihood. Several convicts, whose good conduct had entitled them to a pardon, declined availing themselves of the offered clemency of the Executive, as by a discharge before the expiration of the term to which they had been sentenced, they would, under the section above cited, have forfeited their right to this slender pittance. His Excellency has suggested a change of the law in this particular. In compliance with the recommendation, which the committee highly approve, they have embodied a section in the bill which is herewith reported.

The term of the officers of the institution will expire during the present year. The old prison will be abandoned at an early day, as the new and more commodious building will soon be completed and ready for the reception of the convicts. The committee believe that some changes in the law might be advantageously made. They therefore submit a few hurried suggestions, illustrative of their views, and explanatory of the bill, which is herewith laid before the House.

The committee would beg the indulgence of the House to some passing remarks in reference to a subject upon which they have bestowed a careful consideration. It will be recollected that by a joint resolution, approved January 13th, 1844, his Excellency, the Governor, was requested to prepare a system for the government, management and control of the State prison, under the exclusive control of the State, and to submit the same to the General Assembly at its next ensuing session. In his first annual message Governor Whitcomb remarks that the preparation of a system in compliance with the wish conveyed in the joint resolution had "been deferred for the want of information from other States, which he was in the expectation of receiving." The message, communicated to the two houses at the commencement of the present session, though containing some appropriate and just reflections upon the subject of our penal laws, does not present any specific plan for the government of the Penitentiary. It is presumed that it will be discussed in a separate communication, should the Legislature determine to change the government of the institution, and to repeal the present law.

In the last annual message of Gov. Wallace, the propriety of an "immediate re-organization" of the Penitentiary was suggested, with a view of placing it under the exclusive control of the State. As the contract with the then lessees was on the eve of its expiration, it was a propitious moment to take into consideration the propriety of making such changes in the control and police of the establishment as time and experience might have suggested, or the promotion of the public interests required. Several propositions were submitted. A lengthy and elaborate report was made by the committee on the State prison to this House, in which the subject was fully and ably discussed. The straightened financial condition of the State, and the necessity for an immediate and heavy outlay of means to procure the requisite machinery and apparatus, for the employment of the convicts, were deemed insurmountable objections to the recommendation of the Governor. The views of the committee were sustained by the concurring opinions of both branches of the General Assembly. The result of their action was the enactment of the law, approved February 10th, 1841. Since that period, liberal appropriations have been made for the erection of a new Penitentiary, while the extent of our public debt, and our limited ability to meet it, may well excite the anxious apprehension of every citizen who is alive to the honor of the State and the prosperity of her people. The labor of the convicts should be so employed as to avoid, as far as practicable, competition with the artizans and mechanics in the neighborhood of the Penitentiary. The machinery necessary for this purpose would necessarily involve a large expenditure, which at this time it would be inexpedient to incur. The objections to the State taking the institution into her own hands which were formerly made, would now apply with an equal, if not an increased weight. The committee do not, however, deem it necessary to enlarge upon this subject. That the State will and ought eventually to have an exclusive interest in the institution, and through her own officers manage and control it, they entertain no doubt; but from the lights now before them, they deem it impolitic in the highest degree, for her to do so at this time, or to change, in any essential particular, the plan of government now enforced.

The committee, therefore, forbear expressing any views as to the most desirable system of police or the other individual matters connected therewith which, in their opinion, should be adopted, in the event of any such change being made, as would dispense with the existing system of government.

The statutory enactments defining the mode of selecting the officers of the Penitentiary, and prescribing their duties, will be found in the Revised Statutes of 1838 and the amendatory acts of 1841 and 1842, and the Revised Statutes of 1843. The general regulations of the prison will also be found therein embodied. They are not, however, of such a minute and specific character as will secure at once a rigid administration of prison discipline and prevent the authority of the officers from being perverted and abused. A subject so important and full of interest could not be adequately considered within the allowable limits of this report. The limited time which the committee have been able to bestow upon it, consistently with their other public duties, their inability of access to the sources of information, and the acknowledged fact, that the subject of prison discipline has engaged the enlightened labors of philanthropy and science, without producing a uniformity of opinion, all forbid the hope that a task so arduous and delicate as that of preparing a proper system, could be satisfactorily discharged by them. It was no doubt, on account of such considerations that this duty was devolved upon the Governor. The committee will, however, endeavor to point out such defects as in their opinion specially require the exercise of legislative authority.

The committee are of opinion that one radical defect in the existing law is, the non-appointment of a board of inspectors. The only information which the General Assembly or the Governor can obtain, is through the report of the Visiter and Clerk. The former officer is required to visit the institution semi-annually. His reports are always very meagre and unsatisfactory, containing little else than supposed facts derived through the medium of hearsay evidence and vague reports. It is obvious that he can have but a slight knowledge of the general operations of the institution or the manner in which the discipline is enforced. The reports of the clerk relate exclusively to the finances of the establishment, and there is no supervisory authority exercised over him. The bill now reported, contains some provisions which, it is believed, will obviate these defects. It contemplates the appointment of a board of inspectors. One of them is required to visit the institution at least once a week. They are required to make quarterly reports, and in October to make a report embracing a history of their doings for the preceding year. They are furthermore required to establish a code of by-laws which are to be submitted to the Governor, who is empowered to modify them, if he thinks proper. Every department should be regulated by fixed rules, and it has been thought most advisable to vest this authority, subject to the supervision of the Governor, in the inspectors. They can witness the actual operation of the system that may be adopted, and can make such modifications from time to time, as may be deemed expedient.

The bill further proposes to establish a clerk in reference to the financial department. The superintendent is required to keep a full and accurate account of the expenditures. These as well as the books of the institution are subjected to the scrutiny of the board of inspectors. The vouchers of the superintendent are to be submitted for their examination and approval. He is required to present them to the board in September, at the close of the fiscal year, one month before the annual report of the inspectors is by law required to be made.

The duties of the physician and surgeon are minutely set forth in the bill. Its provisions in this respect are deemed sufficiently explicit and comprehensive. It is hoped they will accomplish the meditated object, that of securing to the invalid of the establishment humane and skilful treatment.

The office of chaplain is one of great importance. The compensation of that officer has been increased, and he is required to give his whole time to his duties. Among the most prominent of these are the public exercises of religion, the superintendence of the Sabbath school, private instruction at the cells on the Sabbath, and visiting the sick. It is an ascertained fact, recorded by those who are most conversant with the religious history of convicts, that most of them are profoundly ignorant of the Bible and consequently of the nature of the relations they sustain to their Creator and their fellow-men, and the obligations which arise from them. It is true that some have disregarded the restraints of religious education and the force of good example, but their number is but small compared with those who have been reared in ignorance of the doctrines and duties, the promises and warnings of religion. If we hope to reform as well as punish the offender, and if we recognize in its full force the great truth that religion affords the surest means of permanent moral reformation, we should seek to extend to them regular spiritual instruction. The history of the penitentiaries of our country will prove that it has often been attended with signal success, and that the most hardened transgressors have, by the use of such means, become exemplary members of that society of which they had been the refuse and opprobrium.

The House adjourned until 2 o'clock, P. M.

2 o'clock, P. M.

House met.

The Speaker laid before the House a communication from his Excellency, the Governor, containing a report from the superintendent of the new State prison ;

Which was,

On motion,

Referred to the committee on the State prison.

Also, a communication from Winslow and Perkins of New York, transmitting a memorial from certain bondholders declining the proposition submitted for them by Mr. Valette, at the last session of the General Assembly, and one from the Secretary of War of the United States ;

Which were,

On motion,

Laid upon the table.

Also, the following communication from the President of the State Bank, in reply to a resolution adopted in the House on the 6th of this month :

STATE BANK OF INDIANA, }
Indianapolis, January 12, 1846. }

HON. JOHN S. SIMONSON,

Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR:—Please to lay before the House of Representatives the annexed replies to the following resolutions of enquiry of the House, adopted on the 6th inst.; which replies are made from the answers of the Cashiers of the respective Branches to specific interrogatories propounded by me to them at the fall examination, prior to the late November session of the Directors of the State Bank, and which are on file in this office.

1st. "What amount of the loans made since the first day of June, 1843, (under the law of February 13, 1843,) by which the discounts of the Bank since that date were to be collected without any relief from valuation or appraisement laws, has gone to suit or collection in the branches respectively?"

Ans.—In eleven of the Branches none whatever of such loans have gone to suit; in two of them it is estimated that possibly $1100 will have to be collected by law. In the remaining two Branches $3500 of loans, made under the law of February 13, 1843, have gone to suit.

2nd. "What amount of the suspended debt in the several Branches, existing two years ago, has been realized since that period?"

Ans.—In twelve of the Branches, the amount of such suspended debt realized is $215,367 64. No answer was made to that point of my interrogatories at one of the Branches, but an examination of the reports of that Branch on November 30, 1843, and on November 29, 1845, shows the entire reduction of the suspended debt between those periods to be $57,504 88.

3d. "What amount of loss is anticipated on the remainder of the suspended debt in the respective Branches?"

Ans.—In one of the Branches no loss whatever is estimated. In another it is stated as "very small;" and in the remaining eleven Branches the loss anticipated on the remainder of the suspended debt is computed at $80,200 in all. This is understood to embrace all losses in the entire suspended debt in all the Branches with the exception of a debt in one of the Branches in which from $11,000 to $12,000 are involved which is in a course of litigation.

It may be observed in connection with the reply to the last enquiry as to the entire loss estimated by the officers of the Branches at less than $100,000; that the amount of surplus profits retained in the Branches with reference to discharging any losses, was on the date of the last report to the General Assembly $375,239 81.

Very respectfully,

J. MORRISON.

Mr. Secrest from the committee of ways and means, reported the following bill;

No. 493. An act making specific appropriations for the year 1846;

Which was read a first and second times, the rules being suspended, and laid on the table.

Mr. Secrest also from the committee of ways and means, made the following report on the condition of the finances of the State.

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee of ways and means, to which an inquiry into the condition of the finances of the State properly belongs, as well as those offices immediately connected therewith, to the full extent of the time and means within their control, have had those subjects under their consideration, and have directed me to report:

That the committee in discharge of their duty, in looking into the present and prospective condition of the finances of the State, with the view of making the annual provisions in relation to them, feel the embarrassment consequent upon the importance of the condition of the affairs of the State. For several years past, the Executive and Legislative departments of the government have attempted to portray in suitable terms the embarrassments of the people, and of the government of the State; but masterly as were the pens with which these descriptions were drawn, they all fell short of the reality. Every interest and every species of property has felt, and deeply felt their ruinous effects. They have proved as severe as their prevalence was general—embracing every condition of the people and every branch of the government, and their blighting effects can only now be understood by those who witnessed and experienced them.

In 1841, the State, for internal improvement purposes, was found to be indebted to the amount of more than twelve millions of dollars, including our foreign and domestic debts, and without the present means or available resources to meet the interest then due upon any portion of it, as by the terms of her contracts, guarantied by her plighted faith, she had bound herself to do. So anxious have been the people and their representatives in the General Assembly to extend all the relief in their power to their creditors, that upon more than one occasion, the means of meeting the ordinary expenditures of the government were diverted from that object to their payment, until the State was compelled to resort to temporary loans to raise the means to pay the salaries of her officers.

To enumerate the causes which have led to these results—now understood by all—would be useless and unavailing. To attempt to throw the odium of them upon any party or class of the citizens of the State, would be improper and unjust. That every class and every interest have alike been deeply involved by them, is enough to satisfy the candid that they were alike unforeseen by the government—the people, and every class of their creditors, and this embarrassed state of things has been continued for more than four years, with but little relief to any.

Humiliating as was the task, candor and a sense of justice, both to the State and her creditors, required that we should with frankness acknowledge our liabilities, and assert our willingness to discharge them, as soon as our resources could be rendered available. This, through every branch of the authorized agencies of the State done, with the fond hope of avoiding the charge of intentional repudiation—a charge as wholly unfounded, as it was ruinous to the credit of the State, and the value of her stocks in the hands of her confiding creditors, the ignorant and unthoughted few nevertheless made it, and placed in doubt the honor and character of the State among the uninformed. Deep as has been the anxiety every where to expel every doubt about the honesty of our professions, thus authoritatively proclaimed to the world, by the prompt payment of the interest on our liabilities; yet the State has not been able to provide the means necessary to relieve her from this condition, nor could she, until by the industry and economy of her people, they could first extricate themselves from the individual embarrassment experienced so heavily by all; and during this suspense, greatly to our discouragement, our debt was annually increasing, at the rate of more than a half of a million of dollars for the arrears of interest falling due and remaining unpaid.

To permit this state of things to continue longer than we are compelled by an imperious necessity, would be unwise and impolitic. Such we feel assured is not either the interest, or the wish of the people of the State. For the last five years, the question was one of ability only. Never have they suffered it to become one of common honesty, and we are satisfied, that in no part of the State could they be induced to tolerate it, even for a moment.

With the first notions of government, the people of the west imbibed a love for our republican institutions, and a jealous care for their honor, and on more than one occasion have they proved their devotion to them by the most fearful hazards. They never have, and we confidently predict they never will, permit the honor of the State to be weighed in the balance and found either wanting or doubtful. With them the fair fame of the State is far above such sordid considerations. To think of pushing off this already immense debt, with its rapidly increasing weight, upon their posterity for payment, would be at war with a principal in man's nature, and little less dishonorable than repudiation itself.

Dark and gloomy as the past has been, your committee cannot do less than congratulate the General Assembly and the people, upon the wisdom, energy, and economy which exists in every part of the State, and which promises, with so much certainty, if carefully followed up, to relieve the State of embarrassment and retrieve its honor. Dangerous and difficult as have been the affairs of the State in its youth, a healthy and vigorous maturity, and an honorable age, by the untiring energies of our present hardy and enterprising population, certainly awaits it. The character of the people is not now one for visionary theory, but for beneficial and practicable purposes. In it can be seen in embryo, the elements of a coming literary, scientific, and commercial fame. By its efficient agency, amidst the gloom of the past, the heavy forests have been levelled with increasing rapidity—our prairies and fields rendered more productive, our schools and colleges crowding—the opening germs of genius fostering and ripening into an early maturity, and our rivers and lakes covered with boats and ships, bearing the rich products of our industry to the doors of the consumer. The blighting mildews upon our prosperity, are happily beginning to recede from the view of our citizens, encouraging them onward to renewed exertions, and laying the foundation of contentment and competency, and constitutes the true harbinger of a better and more permanent basis for the future security of the public faith, and the public honor.

Nor has there been wanting in the public officers of the State a corresponding industry, fidelity, and economy, so far as the committee have had the means to enquire. They have, with a commendable zeal for the public interest, lent every energy in their power to the reduction of the expenditures, and husbanding the shattered resources of the State, as will be at once seen by the very able and well digested reports of the Auditor and Treasurer of State. An amount exceeding twenty-two thousand dollars per annum has been lopped off the ordinary expenditures, without essential detriment to the public service. Of the domestic debt of the State, more than one half it, has already been paid off, and the available means of the treasury, it is confidently believed, will be equal to the demands upon it for the current year, after paying off the temporary loan of fifty-six thousand dollars from the State bank, which, under existing laws, the treasurer will be able soon to meet and liquidate.

By reference to the report of the Auditor of State, it will be seen, that the true amount in the treasury at the close of the fiscal year, ending October 31st, 1845, was $770,128 40. This sum mainly consisted in redeemed treasury notes within the last year; and although these notes are at a premium, it shows a gratifying reduction of the domestic debt.

Of this sum the committee have carefully counted and destroyed the following amounts, to-wit:

Of six per cent. treasury notes of various dates,	$147,370 00
Upon which interest has been paid to the amount of	36,204 00
	<hr/>
Making of principal and interest,	$183,574 00
Of Wabash and Erie canal scrip, commonly called "blue dog,"	$259,415 00
Of the 5 per cent treasury notes, called bank scrip,	$76,590 00
Upon which interest has been paid at the treasury, to the amount of	10,229 31
	<hr/>
Making of principal and interest,	$86,819 31
Of Wabash and Erie canal scrip called "White dog,"	$90,537 92
	<hr/>
Making of principal and interest,	$95,537 46
Of State bonds for internal improvement and other purposes,	$42,000 00
Upon which interest has been paid to the amount of	4,750 00
	<hr/>
Making of principal and interest,	$46,750 00

A more particular description of which will be found in statement "A" hereto appended.

The amounts drawn for by the Auditor for the year ending on the 31st day of October, 1845, will be seen by reference to statement "B" and the amounts drawn for from that time until the first day of January, 1846, will be seen by reference to statement marked "C," both of which are hereto annexed; and your committee take pleasure in being able to state, that for these sums they have examined the Auditor's books and vouchers, and find them to be correct.

In fixing the revenues of the coming year, the committee have had an eye to the improving condition of the monetary affairs of the people on the one hand, as furnishing the ability of our citizens to pay, and of the increasing demands of the State to meet her increasing liabilities for interest.

There is now before the General Assembly a bill to provide for the liquidation of the public debt; but whether it will be their pleasure to make it the law of the land, the committee will not attempt to predict. If it should be passed, it is confidently believed, that a property tax of twenty-five cents upon the one hundred dollars of the valuation, and a poll tax of seventy-five cents will be amply sufficient to meet its provisions and defray the ordinary expenditures for the coming year, but if for the purpose of meeting the provisions of this bill, the funds raised should not be needed, their beneficial effects will be none the less salutary for the payment of so much the more of the interest and principal of the domestic debt. The increased burthen of taxation thus imposed, will not, it is believed, be sensibly felt by the people, while it must produce a very salutary effect upon the public credit, in the preservation of which, every good citizen feels a lively interest. The increasing prosperity of the people has been such, that it will scarcely be doubted by any, that a tax thirty per cent. higher than that of 1842, could be met with greater ease, and certainly with more promptness than was the tax of that year.

The unanimity of interest and feeling which pervades every part of the State for providing asylums for the deaf and dumb, and for the insane, as also a fund for the education of the blind, is as honorable to the people as it is useful to those for whom it is provided. To such humane institutions, planted and sustained by taxation amidst the gloom of the past few years, we may safely point in refutation of the assaults made upon the character of our fellow citizens. They are more honorable to the State than any system of internal improvements or public or individual wealth could possibly make us. To these unoffending and unfortunate beings, just soever as may be the Providence under which they suffer, we owe a higher obligation than any which can possibly arise by contract, and already are we beginning to witness with pride and satisfaction, the blessings which our pittance has conferred upon them. Above all other claims, do your committee regard the obligations of the State to provide for them the accustomed revenue, and the committee have therefore reported the usual provision in the bill to raise a revenue for the year 1846, and concur unanimously in recommending its passage.

HENRY SECREST, Chairman,

G. W. CARR,

Amount credited to the Treasurer, $44 73.

NOTE.—The cause of the difference between the amount of interest credited to the Treasurer, and that computed on the six per cent. treasury notes, arises from the fact that the county treasurers were not credited for the full amounts, and the committee therefore only allowed to the Treasurer the sum which by his books was shown to have been paid, and for which alone he claimed a credit.

On motion by Mr. Hall of Gibson,

Resolved, That the Senate be informed that the House of Representatives have gone through with the Legislative business of the present session, and are now ready to adjourn, sine die.

The following message was received from the Senate by Mr. Akin, their Assistant Secretary :

MR. SPEAKER :

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate have passed the following resolution :

Resolved, That the Secretary inform the House of Representatives that the Senate have gone through with their Legislative business, and are now ready to adjourn, sine die.

Mr. Hall of Gibson then moved that the House do now adjourn, sine die.

Whereupon the Speaker arose and delivered the following valedictory address:

GENTLEMEN:—About to separate after a most arduous and eventful session, I would not only be doing violence to my own feelings, but great injustice to you, did I omit bearing testimony to the ability and industry evinced by you in the discharge of your responsible duties as members of this House. The results of the session will be of vital importance to Indiana, and time will determine how far they will be favorable to the future interests and prosperity of the State. In a government like ours it can scarcely be expected that enactments made for the general benefit should meet the approbation of all; and should dissatisfaction appear in any quarter, I am sure it cannot be imputed either to want of deliberation, or faithfulness, or of ability on your part.

For the very flattering compliment you have accorded to me—for the liberal indulgence shown me—and for the prompt and efficient aid rendered me on all occasions, whilst in the discharge of the duties of the Chair, you will be pleased, gentlemen, to accept my most grateful thanks.

You are, gentlemen, about to return to the family circle—the domestic fireside. May you find it all you anticipate—full of happiness and all the endearing relations of home,—and may you also meet, as I know you deserve, the cheering welcome of a satisfied constituency.

I now perform the last duty incumbent upon me by pronouncing this House adjourned sine die.

Attest,

FRANCIS M. WILLIAMS,
Assistant Clerk House of Representatives.
